THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1865.

RICHARD HILDRETH, the historian, died in Florence on the morning of the 17th instant. An event unexpected.

MAJOR GENERAL HERRON.—This gallant officer had a warm reception on his return to Dubuque, a few days since. A dispatch says he intends to make that place his future residence.

THE Buffalo Express wants to know what becomes of the whisky. We see the daily evidence that a good deal of it is drank, as for the rest, there can't be much of it.

GEN. TURNER'S ORDER.—The order of General TURNER, setting aside the Richmond election, was strictly in accordance with the Virginia law which says if the vote of one legal voter is refused, the election is void. The General had the evidence that the votes of several such had been shut out.

POPULATION OF NEW YORK.—The population of New York city, as nearly as can be ascertained, is 1,003,250—an increase of nearly two hundred thousand (189,591) since 1860, when the total was 813,669. The average growth of population for five years, therefore, in round numbers, is about 40,000 a year. It is estimated that the aggregate population of the State will foot up 4,350,000.

Oil Strike on the Allegheny.

Our special correspondent at Oil City sends us the following dispatch, relative to the latest strike in that vicinity:

OIL CITY, August 2.
Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
The Cherry Run and Pithole Company have struck a twenty barrel well on Hickory Island, one mile below Oil City. Prospects highly encouraging. G. P.

GENERAL COX'S LETTER.—In publishing the letter of Gen. Cox, the Ohio State Journal says: "A very large majority of the friends of freedom, upon due consideration, will arrive at the firm conviction that whoever cannot find in the Ohio Platform, as General Cox represents it, an adequate rule of action for the pending election, must be governed by unwise political antagonisms, arising out of unfortunate antecedents in connection or sympathy with rebellion, or must be more tenacious upon collateral issues, than zealous for the complete and permanent success of the principles which the Union Party is organized to promote."
The Cleveland Herald publishes the letter and says: "It will command attentiona as the production of a deep thinker, clear and vigorous writer, and earnest patriot who has shown his devotion to the country by deeds as well as words."

HEAVY TREASURY BALANCE.—The N. Y. Post (money article) of Tuesday says: The heavy balance of sixty millions of dollars which Mr. McCulloch is permitting to lie idle in the Sub-Treasury, awakens grave apprehensions. The soldiers, contractors and other creditors of the Government are suffering great inconvenience from the delay in the payment of their claims. So long as there were no funds in hand the annoyance was submitted to, but now it is regarded as equally intolerable and unnecessary. Various reasons are assigned for this locking up of public funds, which Mr. McCulloch has not resorted to since his induction into office. The pernicious effects of the new policy and of the perturbations in our financial machinery to which it contributes, are already seen in the diminished credit of the Government, and in the falling price of the 7-30s and Certificates of Indebtedness.

Slow but Sure.

The Wheeling Intelligencer relates the following: In April, 1863, a gentleman in this city who owed a bill in Pittsburgh, remitted the amount of the same by express, and since that time rested secure in the happy consciousness that the debt was paid, and the creditor enjoying the benefit of the funds. Imagine his surprise when one day last week he received a letter from the old creditor, informing him that the package had just been received, and the amount was all correct; also assuring him that he always believed him to be an honest man, and congratulating him on his success in business, which had doubtless enabled him to pay an old account of such long standing. Our friend immediately replied, thanking him for his good opinion, but requesting him to re-examine the date accompanying the remittance, and he would find it to be April 1863, instead of 1865. Considering the distance between Pittsburgh and Wheeling, we have concluded the delivery of the package was a little slow but sure.

Trial of the Andersonville Murderer.

The trial of Wirz, the monster of Andersonville, the tool whereby Jeff. Davis tortured and killed so many brave Union Soldiers, will be proceeded with in a short time. It is understood that the guilt of Wirz will be proved on trial, by the testimony not only of Union soldiers who have suffered in the prison at his hands, but by that of Southern men, of respectability and character, well known in their State, several of whom have voluntarially come North to be present at the trial and bear witness against the monster.
It will be proved by the testimony of these men that Wirz caused the murder, in more than half a dozen cases, of unoffending prisoners; that his conduct was constantly of the most brutal and inhuman character; that he not only forced the guards to shoot prisoners without warning, but that at least in one case, for a slight misdemeanor, he caused two young men, prisoners to be hanged without trial or preparation. They were seized about noon, and hanged the same afternoon.
It will be proved, too, that Wirz threatened with punishment, and covered with foul abuse, southern men, who, moved by the piteous sufferings of the prisoners, or at the request of northern friends, attempted to alleviate their miseries even in ever so slight a degree. It will be proved that no language was too foul nor any cruelty too inhuman for this wretch to vent upon the helpless prisoners in his power, and that the tortures he made them suffer, and the miserable deaths they died under his treatment, gave him constant satisfaction and pleasure. In short, Davis and Lee had no more zealous torturer in their employment, and Winder no more faithful agent and assistant, than this Wirz, the proof of whose efficiency may be seen at this day in the nineteen thousand graves at Andersonville.

Latest from Havana.

THE NEWS FROM MEXICO.

Arrival of Kirby Smith in Havana.

NEW YORK, August 2.—By the steamer Eagle we have Havana dates to the 29th ult.
Judah Benjamin arrived at Havana, on the 25th, from Nassau, on a schooner. Kirby Smith also arrived in Havana from Vera Cruz, on the 28th with Ex-Gov. Reynolds and Capt. A. N. T. Beauregard, late secretary to Dr. Gwin. The Idea (Liberal,) of Puebla, calls for a convention of the whole people to decide either for the Empire or the Republic, and thinks by this means all chance of war with the United States will be avoided.
Monterey was occupied on the 22d by the French troops under Jeannigots, who had called for the delivery of all the arms held by the citizens, and established stringent rules. The Texas had arrived at Monterey.
Mr. Stranahan, correspondent of the New York Herald, died in Mexico on the 5th.
The Constitutional Governor of Lower California, who was supposed to favor the Empire, had gone to San Francisco.
A Franco-Mexican expedition was preparing to go to Lower California.
The Indians have rebelled against the Government of Sonora. Military operations against the rebels in Sonora and Spinola were to commence for the rainy season. The American schooner Wilson Crawford, of Brooklyn, had been seized by the Mexican authorities at Spinola, on suspicion of smuggling. Her master and crew except one man, had been imprisoned.
A general exchange of Spanish and Dominician prisoners was to take place on the 22d instant. The rebels in Hayti thus far have the advantage. Jeffrard had not yet taken Guarico. The rebels had offered peace to Jeffrard on signing a treaty making five years the Presidential term.
The Stonewall is being prepared to be delivered to the United States. The health of Havana is good.

LATEST FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Affairs in Texas.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The steamer Evening Star brings New Orleans dates to the 26th. In our files we find no important news.
The Times' Galveston correspondent says that seven railroads are in running order in Texas, comprising an aggregate of over four hundred miles. New rolling and other stocks are much wanted, however. Before the war there were sixty-five newspapers published in that State, while now there are but thirty-three. The Federal troops have bagged about thirty of the miscreants who have created so much terror in the interior by their robberies. There are in Texas, including that en route for Mexico, over 50,000 bales of cotton instead of five or six hundred thousand bales, as has been stated.
The trial of the rebel Lowry, at Houston, for pulling down the national flag, is still progressing.
The Houston Telegraph says over 3,000 oaths of amnesty and 1,600 soldier's paroles have been administered there.
A great many robbers and jay hawkers have been arrested in western Texas and much property recovered.
The Brownsville correspondent says accounts from the interior represent an unsettled state of affairs. The rebel returned soldiers have, in a spirit of revenge, turned upon those who staid at home and murder and rob them.
The Times of the 26th states that it had just learned that the Tremont House, and a large portion of Galveston was destroyed by fire. The military finally suppressed the flames.

THE ASSASSINATION CONSPIRACY.

Reported Arrest of John H. Surratt.

BALTIMORE, August 2.—The person arrested in Texas recently, and supposed to be John H. Surratt, one of the assassins, passed Relay Station this morning, en route for Washington, heavily ironed and under guard. He was recognized at the station by an acquaintance, and by an old friend also, who was allowed to speak to the prisoner, and who says positively that the man in irons is John H. Surratt. The deposition of this person was at once taken and forwarded to Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—The man brought hither from the West, who was supposed to be John H. Surratt, is said in quarters where he was known, to be some other individual. His name is thus far kept a secret.

INTERESTING FROM GEORGIA.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The steamer Nevada brings Savannah dates of the 29th ult. The Savannah Herald says: Five bags, containing mail matter, were for the first time forwarded to Augusta on the 27th, for the interior of Georgia. A large mail was also forwarded on the 28th, for South Georgia and Florida.
The United States military police of Savannah has been disbanded, and an organization of armed patrols substituted. The Provost courts have been abolished, and all criminal cases are tried by Captain Cox, as Post Provost Marshal, and the functions of District Judge are performed by Lieut. Col. Yorke.
F. W. Sems, the former proprietor of the Savannah Republican has repetitioned for the restoration to him of that property, but Gen. Branton has ordered that on account of his treasonable conduct, the petition be denied.
A list of prices for the public market of Savannah has been established by Gen. Davis.
Hon. Byron Myron, formerly Governor of this State, died at his residence, Bristol, aged seventy years.

THE MEETING OF JEFF. DAVIS' FRIENDS.

DENIAL OF G. J. TUCKER AND OTHERS.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Gideon J. Tucker denies having attended any meeting at which was uttered such sentiments as are said to have been uttered at the meeting of Jeff. Davis' friends in this city. He says no one but a fool would utter such sentiments, and no one but a scoundrel would attribute them to him. Messrs. Cutler and Butterfield also deny that any sentiments in favor of renewing the rebellion in any way were uttered at the meeting.

LATEST FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Times copies the following from the Fayetteville (N. C.) News: The people of North Carolina will stultify and degrade themselves by adopting the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery. The new State Convention must leave slavery where they found it—as it existed before the war. Many of the southern tier of counties bordering on South Carolina have instructed their delegates to the State Convention to take this position, and insist to the last on the adoption of the same by that body.

No Counterfeit Five Dollar Notes of National Banks.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—There is no truth in the report in circulation in some parts of the country that the five dollar notes of the National Banks had been counterfeited after the first instalment of notes had been issued to some five or six of the banks first organized. A slight change was made in lettering and minor details of the five dollar notes, which accounts for the variation now seen between the fives first issued and subsequent ones. There are no counterfeits of any of the denominations of the National currency.

Arrest of a Defaulter.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—During the late Presidential canvass, a man named W. Fuller, perpetrated a series of frauds by pretending to be an agent of the Republican executive committee, of which Senator Harlan was chairman, and collecting money from various office holders throughout the country amounting to $45,000. He had previously provided himself with several hundred blank receipts signed by Mr. Harlan, which he had stolen.
Gen. Baker has ever since been tracking Fuller with his detectives, and has only recently been successful in arresting and bringing him to this city. He hails from Indiana, but has served a term in the Missouri State prison.

Ocean Steamers.—The African Flag.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Commercial Advertiser says the first ocean steamer flying the African flag, which has crossed the Atlantic for over four years will sail from this port on Saturday, fortnight. The Messrs. Leary will dispatch for Southampton and Bremen, the steamer Caucassian, 1045 tons burthen. The sailing of the vessel will open the eyes of the English, French, and Germans, who have for so long a time monopolized the passenger and freight traffic between the United States and Europe.

Reported Trouble on the Rio Grande.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The World's Washington special says: This evening's Star pronounces the report of an impending collision on the Rio Grande untrue, as well as the story that reinforcements have been sent to Texas to repel the encroachment of the French troops. It is quite certain the Government has no knowledge of any trouble in that section.

The Rebel Gen. Dick Taylor.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The World's Washington special says that General Dick Taylor returned this morning from Fortress Monroe, where, it is thought, he had an interview with Jeff. Davis, who is his brother-in-law. What its object was no one here seems to know. It is plain, however, that there will be no trial of the rebel chief for some time to come.

Health of Gov. Brough.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 2.—Gov. Brough is not so well, but at 12:20 o'clock P. M., was reported as having slept comfortably and having a fair appetite.

Americans in New York.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Times says it is estimated that there are about one hundred thousand Americans in Europe at this time. Probably there will have been altogether not less than two hundred thousand there in the course of this summer. Paris is their chief place of resort, but they penetrate into every country of Europe from the Arctic Ocean to the Mediterranean.

Troops Ordered to South Carolina.—President Johnson's Health.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Post's Washington special says: Battery E Fifth U. S. Artillery has been ordered to South Carolina.
President Johnson is still prevented by indisposition from receiving any visitors except a few with whom be has important business.

The Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, August 2—The statement of the public debt as compared with that made on the 31st of May, shows an increase of $122,000,000 during the intervening period, owing in part to the extraordinary sums required to pay arrearages due to the army. The amount of legal tender notes in circulation, shows an increase from the 31st of May of $26,075,700.

A Swindler Tracked to Europe.

NEW YORK, August 2—Geo. W. Parsons, his counsel, learning that Mr. Eastman, of Brooklyn, charged with swindling his creditors, was in Europe, followed him there, and found him in a lunatic asylum.

Railroad Collision at Havre de Grace.

NEW YORK, August 2.—A collision took place between two freight trains near Havre de Grace this evening, by which one man and a number of Government horses were killed.

The Atlantic Telegraph.

ASPY BAY, Aug, 2.—The steamer Lone Star, with engineer Everett's party on board, arrived here this morning. The weather is fine and the elements most favorable for the prosecution of the work of laying the cable across the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

Celebration of the Fourth in Germania.—A Drive through Hamburg, and Visit to the Aquarium.—A Suggestion to the Allegheny Park Association.—The Crown of Schleswig Holstein.—Unionism in Germany.—German Railroads. The Harvest in Germany.—Petroleum the Great Illuminator—Matters Personal.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial
UNZENBURG, July 11, 1865.

When I closed my last letter, I feared that our intended celebration of the "Fourth" was to be prevented by the storm; but old Neptune had compassion on us Americans; our prayers were heard; the storm ceased about five o'clock P. M., and the steamer (Germania) soon became so comfortable, that we concluded to have our "Fourth" anyhow. Captain Ehlers furnished champagne gratis for the whole crowd, an excellent quality at that, and as much as we could reasonably enjoy; consequently we had a merry time of it. Appropriate toasts and short speeches were exchanged; music and singing closed the day. We reached Hamburg in twelve and a half days, on Friday.

Saturday, I and a Mr. Maas, from Indiana, engaged a carriage for driving through and around the city. That part of Hamburg which was destroyed by fire, is now entirely rebuilt in good style. The old part of the city is anything but beautiful; the style of building is perfectly distasteful; the streets are so narrow that two wagons can hardly pass; but the new town will favorably compare with most any city of the Union except Philadelphia, my favorite. We also visited the surroundings, amongst them the Zoological garden and the Aquarium. The Zoological Garden, though pretty extensive, well and tastefully arranged, &c.,—is less celebrated than the Aquarium, a part of the same or rather an Institution in the Institution, regnum in regno.
The Aquarium is a subterrenean room of considerable length, on all sides of which a number of smaller rooms, (about three dozen in all,) filled with water, through which light streams from above, are arranged so as to let the visitor, by means of thick glass, preventing the water from entering the inner large room, look into and observe what is going on in them. They are filled with all kinds of larger and smaller oceanic animals, from the smallest insects up to a giant salamander, measuring five feet in length and weighing thirty or forty pounds. These animals there live in their "element," and act as though they were not captives, thus affording the visitor the best opportunity to study them. I never saw anything so interesting, and perhaps never will see anything more so. Paris is said to have a similar institution, and the city of Cologne is about building one. The Aquarium of Hamburg is, perhaps, ahead of that at Paris, and no American, happening to come to that city, should neglect visiting the institution. Such enjoyments are rare, and money is no compensation for the gratification they afford.
They are beautiful in the highest degree, and no less instructive. The various kinds of water insects, polypes, &c., offer such attractions, that the visitor feels, as though he could never leave the place. The Allegheny Park (in spe) might have a sweet water aquarium at a small expense, and its income from visitors would pay for all repairs in the park; for it requires only one person to superintend and manage the whole concern.
Friday evening I left Hamburg for Frankfort on-the-Main in the cars, and my good luck threw me into the company of two European gentlemen of high standing and liberal sentiments. One of them hailed from Schleswig-Holstein, was some sixteen years in the Danish Legislature, President of several Railroad Companies, &c., and the other a Consul from Stuttgardt. From them I learned, that there are some seven pretenders for the crown of Schleswig-Holstein; that the claims of the Duke of Augustenburg rest on weak grounds, and still weaker support, and will in all propability, have to yield to those of the grand duke of Oldenburg.
The Duke of Augustenburg, whose birthday was celebrated by a grand display of fireworks, &c., at his residence on the banks of the Elbe, while we went up that river on Thursday evening to Hamburg, is said to have written a letter to the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, requesting him to resign his claims in favor of Augustenburg, inasmuch as he (the Grand Duke) was already possessor of a crown, thus confessing the weakness of his own claim. This letter will be published, perhaps, within the next three months. My own opinion is, that Prussia will manage matters so as to annex Schleswig-Holstein, under her protectorate, virtually to her own domain, no matter who will nominally succeed to the inheritance. Every German that feels any interest in the future of Germany, ought to wish for such an event. The bigger power can and must swallow the smaller States, otherwise Germany will never be united under one throne; that accomplished, the people may ultimately dispose of "one" tyrant, and declare themselves free, in a revolutionary movement. Revolutions commencing on small scales in one or the other of the German States will never succeed, but terminate in disaster. There is a movement now on foot to introduce one and the same coins, measures and weights in all German States, embraced by the Zollverein, which, if successful, will advance the cause of German Unionism greatly. This mode of working for the German Union is undoubtedly the safest and most practicable. It removes the many distinctions now existing between the different States, and the national shooting matches and singers' festivals (as those at Bremen and Dresden of the present month), where many representatives of all German States unite for six or more days, and form acquaintance and friendship, are much calculated to destroy the spirit of particularism which hitherto was so anxiously cherished by the different German potentates, and which scared Frederick William IV from taking the crown of all Germany as her Emperor in 1848, then offered him. If he had been a Frederick the Great, he would have taken it anyhow; but he lacked that courage which is ready to sacrifice, and which always produces enthusiasm among the masses of the people.
The German railroads are better built, run somewhat more slowly, and are much more carefully managed than ours in America; but the construction of their cars, though very comfortable for sitting, are far behind the American in other respects. Sub-divided into coupes or smaller rooms for eight passengers, you are confined to that number for your company and entertainment. You have no water for drinking, and no locus tertius—things so necessary for a traveling stranger.
The harvest of Germany fell very short in hay and winter grain, in some regions more, in others less. The summer crops may yet turn out pretty well, except oats and barley, which were suffering for want of rain. The season was a very dry one. Hay sells already for $30 per tun. The farmers will have to sell off the half of their stock, as they say. The vintage of this year will be a very good one as to quality, but the quantity will fall below an average crop.
The use of American petroleum for illuminating purposes is spreading very fast amongst the Germans, in towns and villages, and is much in preference to any other illuminator. Once accustomed to it, they will never give it up again, as long as they can get it; therefore our oil men need not be afraid of a superabundance of the article. Only pump enough!
My old father, sisters and brother and friends; yet alive, I found in good spirits, and let me tell you "in confidence," that we have emptied since my arrival many a bottle of the pure juices of the grapes of the Rhine, Nah and Moselle. A pure glass of wine is a good thing after all, and there is no denying of it. It is a pity that we have not got much of the kind at Pittsburgh! Let us hope for better times. In the meantime, I remain, Yours, respectfully,
H. P. MUELLER.

THE TOMATO AS FOOD.—A good medical authority ascribes to the tomato the following very important medical qualities:
1st. That the tomato is one of the most powerful aperient of the liver and other organs; where calomel is indicated, it is one of the most effective and the least harmful medical agents known to the profession.
2d. That a chemical extract will be obtained from it that will supersede the use of calomel in the cure of disease.
3d. That he has successfully treated diarrhœa with this article alone.
4th. That when used as an article of diet, it is almost sovereign for dyspepsia and indigestion.
5th. That it should be constantly used for daily food. Either cooked or raw, or in the form of catsup, it is the most healthy article now in use.

FROM MEADVILLE.

Meeting of the State Teachers' Association—The Opening Exercises—Addresses by Dr. Loomis, of Allegheny College, and Rev. Thos. K. Beecher, of Elmira, New York.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

As this town is on the route to the oil regions of Pennsylvania, and as everybody is presumed to have passed over the route, either himself or through his agent, with sundry investments in non-producing oil stocks, it is unnecessary for me to describe my trip here, or the town. It is sufficient to say that the hotel accommodations are quite insufficient for the demand. The town is much crowded, and, indeed, has been for the last two years.

The Teachers' Association convened yesterday in Central Hall, a tolerably appropriate place for its sessions, and was welcomed by Prof. Marvin, of Allegheny College, located here, in a very neat and pithy speech, in which he graphically described their old means of communication with the outer world. To this Mr. Myers, Chairman of the Executive Committee replied. The President of the Association, Prof. T. A. Allen, of the State Normal School, delivered his inaugural, in which, after glancing at the past four years' of war, he discussed the aims of educators and the characteristics of the truly educated scholar.
Mr. Clark, of Canandaigua, N. Y., rendered some songs, referring to different incidents in the late struggle, very effectively. He has a fine tenor voice and the sentiment of his pieces found such a response in the hearts of his auditors that he was enthusiastically cheered. The Teachers of Pennsylvania, as any one would see from their demonstrations as well as their record in the past, are decidedly and quite universally loyal.
The relation of the Christian ministry to the cause of popular education was ably discussed by several gentlemen, among whom was Dr. Loomis, President of the College.
In the evening, the Association was addressed by Rev. Thos. K. Beecher, of Elmira, N. Y. The gentleman represented himself as being taken quite aback on learning that his address was to come off twenty-four hours earlier than he had anticipated. His subject was, "The Duty of a Republican Government to Educate its Citizens," and was discussed with all that enthusiasm and popular tact which this talented family possesses in so eminent a degree. His illustrations were clear and forcible, and often called forth the applause of the audience. He is the youngest of the Beechers, but is worthy of the relation he sustains to this very able family of writers and speakers. He took the ground that ignorant men should not vote, and doubtless some degree of intelligence must be required as a qualification for voting.
This meeting is somewhat interfered with by the National Association, to be held in a few days at Harrisburg, but is very fairly attended. I notice Dr. Burroughs, of the School Journal, Profs. Curry, Burt, Gough, and others of your city; and from Beaver, the County Superintendent and Rev. R. T. Taylor, President of the Beaver Female Seminary and musical Institute. The Association think of taking a trip to the oil regions, of which you may hear in the future. Yours, ALPHA.

Where Andrew Johnson Stands.

We presume no sensible man has a doubt, but the following words will in connection with the extravagant things put forth by certain of the Democratic press. It forms a part of a Washington letter to the St. Louis Democrat:

It is but a short time since a distinguished Senator called upon the President. A delegation of Conservatives had just left him. Turning to the Senator he, said: "I wonder if those persons, who but now passed out, imagine that I forget the power and the party to which I owe my elevation. There was not a man in that delegation that would'nt have united in offering a reward for my scalp a few years ago, and now they talk to me as if I owed everything to them. I guess they'll find I have a memory."
Again: A well known editor of a prominent Northern journal said to the President: "The Democracy say you will yet be found with them. That you have always been a good Democrat, and will always so remain."
"Do they," responded Mr. Johnson. "Well, sir, you are at liberty to tell all such gentlemen that, while, as President, I shall endeavor to drop any partisan character, I certainly am not prepared to do more than pray for those who despitefully use me. I think they stand in need of prayers, and it's all I can do for them."
"Mr. President, we are discouraged," said a committee of freedmen to the President. "Richmond is as much in the hands of secessionists now as it was before Lee surrendered. Nominally free, we are yet the worst of slaves, and we see no hope of redress, unless you aid us."
"Gentlemen," answered Mr. Johnson, "you must exercise patience. You are free, and the vainest Virginian shall yet not only acknowledge your freedom but your equality, if you are true to yourselves."
"But the local and State laws of Virginia, Mr. President"—
"What of the local and State laws of Virginia? Until these F. F. V.'s come to their senses, I rather think United States bayonets will be about the only laws they shall have. Go back to your homes—work hard, do your duty; and I will see that the lowest among you is secured in his right and title to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."
As the President uttered this last remark, his face glowed with a high resolve, and I never saw manhood more sterling and erect than his every lineament betokened.

A TEMPLE DISCOVERED AT POMPEII.—Letters from Naples describe a temple of Juno, just discovered among the excavations at Pompeii. Three hundred skeletons were found crowded within the sanctuary, a propitiatory service having evidently been held in the hour they were overwhelmed. The statue of the goddess with its attendant peacock, the tripod in front of the altar, the golden censor, the jewels on the person of the priestess, the rich vessels holding the deposit of animal blood, are the main particulars dwelt on. The eyes of Juno were of the most vivid enamel, her arms and her whole person richly decorated with gold trinkets, her gaudy bird resplendent with a cluster of glittering gems. Aromatic ingredients lay calcined within the censor, while gorgeous lamps and bronze ornaments strewed the tesselated pavement.

THE confession of the Swedish clergyman Lindbach, who murdered several of his parishioners with the communion wine, is published. It is a curious document. These sentences indicate its character: "When one stands beside an incurably sick and dreadfully pained fellow creature, one wishes of all his heart, that he might be released from his heartrending misery. * * I therefore, believed that the merciful God would not condemn me if I shortened the sufferings of a miserable fellow creature. This action is certainly, to outward appearance, against all law, but in reality it rests upon grounds of compassion. My God, before whom I shall finally answer, knows this, and with deep contrition I feel myself worthy of the sore punishment of the civil law for the sinful compassion I exercised towards the dead persons in the case. * * You have now enough, my crime confessed, my house destroyed, my grave opened. Farewell! farewell! Carlstadt! That day I was ordained your pastor, I was ordained to death. O, God! have mercy upon me!"

In the New York market the arrivals of beef cattle this week have been unusually heavy for the season, amounting to 6,132 head, an excess over the receipts of last week of 1,003 head, and constituting a supply much beyond the wants of the city at present. Butchers, therefore, have to some extent controlled the market, and though salesmen for a short time resisted a decline, it was found necessary, in order to effect sales, to accept lower rates, and the market gradually fell off until poor grades of cattle were fully one cent and good grades one-half cent below last week's figures. At the concession business was very slow, and it was with great difficulty that the stock was all disposed of.

MRS. DIX in Seaforth, C. W., eloped with a young chap some time ago, but subsequently repented and returned to her husband and babies. The very moral women of that town, who have no patience with repentant wrong-doers, recently got together, and ordered Mrs. Dix to leave within ten days or be ridden on a rail, with a costume of tar and feathers. They further stated: "Should you afterward be found within the boundaries of Seaforth, you will then be made to walk the streets naked and be scourged with the rod of Moses. No women of ill-fame are allowed to reside within our city." So Mrs. Dix went out into the world disgraced, and the moral matrons smoothed their aprons and felt comfortable.

Joseph Smith, Jr., son of the Mormon Joe Smith of, Nauvoo, comes out in an article in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, denouncing Brigham Young and all his works. Smith is at the head of the new organization of Latter Day Saints. He proposes to discuss the grave issues between himself and Brigham with any belligerent gentleman who will meet him at Council Bluffs.

A Fortress Monroe letter to the New York Herald, in which much romancing appears to be mingled with a leaven of truth, says of Jeff. Davis: "He has not had sent him, except from his wife, a single letter of genuine, heartfelt sympathy. But there have been letters in which all the bitterness of hate and taunting sarcasm and earnest malediction have been condensed into words of most stinging rebuke and sharply pointed anathemas. It is well he does not see these letters."

NEARLY COMPLETED.—The Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad is nearly completed, the track being all laid with the exception of about two miles in the vicinity of this city. The Steubenville Herald says: "The tunnels are completed, and the heavy work, pretty much through with. It is the supposition now, that Steubenville and Pittsburgh will be in railroad connection, via the Pan-handle, in the course of six or eight weeks. This route shortens the railroad travel between the two cities about one-half. Instead of going the circuitous route by the river, eighty miles, when the 'short cut' is completed, the distance will be about forty miles. This will be a good thing for Pittsburgh and the traveling public, but we never could understand how Steubenville could be otherwise than damaged by this improvement."

STATE ITEMS.

E. C. Hamilton has been appointed postmaster at Lewistown, Mifflin county.

The Berks County Agricultural Society will hold a Fair in the fall at Reading.

A postoffice has been established at Bedford Springs, and Albert G. Allen appointed postmaster.

The annual commencement of Pennsylvania College will take place at Gettysburg, on Thursday, August 10th.

Major B. M. Morrow, a soldier, announces himself as an independent candidate for the Legislature from Blair county.

An American aloe, which tree blooms but once in a hundred years, is about to bloom upon the premises of the late George W. Carpenter, Esq., Philadelphia. After the tree blooms it dies.

The National Normal School Association will hold a meeting in the rooms of the School Department in the Capitol, in Harrisburg, on Tuesday.

The Commissioners of Snyder county have been commanded by the Court to proceed with the erection of new county buildings at Selinsgrove, the new county seat.

Captain James Silliman, of the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania Regiment, formerly Gen. Gray's command, died at Pottsville on Monday. The regiment was mustered out of the service last week.

A bronze statue of President Lincoln is to be placed in Jefferson Square, Philadelphia, a number of citizens in that vicinity having collected among themselves a sufficient sum to procure the statue.

James Grant, of Erie, while employed in directing the movements of a drill in a well on Oil creek, on Monday, met with a severe accident, by the "temper screw" striking his thigh and tearing it in a frightful manner.

The preparations for the firemen's parade in Philadelphia are being made on an extensive scale. One of the great features of the parade will be the music in line, which will be furnished by the leading bands of the principal cities of the country.

The citizens of Dauphin, and other counties bordering on the Susquehanna river, are holding meetings for the purpose of devising measures to compel the enforcement of the law requiring owners of dams on said river to so alter or fix them as to enable shad and other fish to ascend the river. By the present arrangement of these dams, the shad fisheries have been very much impaired.

Major Roumfort, of Harrisburg, has issued another proclamation prohibiting the sale of all intoxicating liquors, including ale, porter and lager beer, at the bars of hotels, taverns, restaurants and other drinking houses within the limits of the city, in order that the public peace may be preserved. A terrible drunken riot occurred in Harrisburg, on Monday, which led to the issuing of the proclamation.

On Saturday evening last, at Mountville, Lancaster county, Wm. Bookman, a returned soldier, shot John Hogentobler, also a returned soldier, from the effects of which he died on Monday morning. Hogentobler in driving by Bookman's carriage came in contact with it, and broke a wheel. Neglecting to "halt" when Bookman called, the latter coolly drew a revolver and shot him through the back of the head. Hogentobler had two ladies with him. Bookman is lodged in the Lancaster county prison.

The total amount of local bounty paid by the several townships of Blair county, under the several calls of the President for troops was $348,616; Cambria county paid $146,339; Mifflin county, $140,615; Huntingdon county, $292,268—making a total in the district of $927,839. In 1862, the Commissioners of Blair paid bounties amounting to $26,000. During the years 1863, 1864, and 1865, the counties in the district paid commutation as follows: Blair, $161,800; Huntingdon, $117,900; Mifflin, $81,600; Cambria, $188,700—total commutation, $540,000.

According to the McConnellsburg, Fulton county, Republican, that place has been especially favored during this warm spell. That paper says:—"On Saturday afternoon last, July 22d, between three and four o'clock, our borough was visited by a snow storm, which lasted several minutes, as can be certified by many of our citizens. The day was warm, quite warm, and no reason can be assigned for this singular phenomenon, unless it be that the cloud from which the snow descended got astray some time last winter, and was blown so far out of its course that it took it all this time to get back to where it belonged."

The Logan Guards, comprising the remnant of Company A, Forty-sixth Pennsylvania Volunteers, returned to their homes at Lewistown, on Saturday. These men have acquitted themselves nobly. This company claims to have been the first body of men to respond to the call of Abraham Lincoln for seventy-five thousand volunteers in 1861, when Pennsylvania sent five hundred men in advance of the other States. This claim is, however, contested by the Ringgold Artillery of Reading. The Ringgold was the first company to arrive at Harrisburg, but the Logan Guards passed them on the way and reached Washington in advance of any other organization in the United States.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Major General Auger has been made a Major General by brevet in the regular army.

The report of the cotton crop being injured by the army worm is contradicted.

Battery E, of the 5th United States Artillery, has been ordered to South Carolina.

Confiscated land sales in Florida have been postponed until the 7th inst.

Twelve hundred bales of cotton, chiefly for Cincinnati, passed Cairo yesterday.

During the week preceding the last steamer, an average of one thousand bales of rebel cotton was sent to Liverpool by way of Matamoras.

The statement that President Johnson has pardoned a large number of treacherous rebels in North Carolina, is denied by good authority.

The Congressional contest in Richmond has been commenced by A. Judson Crane offering himself as a candidate for that district.

Cotton is coming into Charleston from the interior more freely than formerly, owing to the roads being repaired.

The troops serving in the Charleston arsenal are to be mustered out. The preparatory order has been issued.

Advices from the South indicate that there will be a scarcity of cotton seed and sugar cane. Louisiana will have to import her next year's supply of her own staple production.

Rations are issued to not more than thirty-five freedmen in Louisiana, and they are sick and helpless. So Superintendent Conway reports.

General Gilmore has organized superior and criminal provost courts of extensive jurisdiction in South Carolina. They are in full operation.

Paymaster Wilson has returned to Washington from a tour through the interior counties of South Carolina, and reports the people bitter against the Union and the Federal authorities.

Col. Wilson, formerly Chief Commissary of the Army of the Potomac, has been breveted Brigadier General of Volunteers and Major and Lieutenant Colonel in the Regular Army.

It is reported that Maximilian will be at Matamoras soon. No one will be permitted to leave that place without a pass, nor enter it from Brownsville. Cortinas is punishing all marauders, and suspended all communication between Matamoras and other places.

Several rebel papers in North Carolina oppose the anti-slavery amendment, and inculcate the idea that slavery will be re-established when the State is free from military rule. It is said that the delegates from some of the Southern tier of counties will probably be instructed to pursue that course in the Convention.

The Church Journal says it speaks by authority in announcing that the course to be pursued in the approaching General Convention of the Episcopal Church will be to call the full roll of the dioceses, and "if any or all of the Southern bishops or dioceses choose to be present, they will only need to hand in their names and their credentials, answer to their names, and take their seats, as of old time, without doubt, question or condition of any sort whatsoever."

Mudd, O'Laughlin, Arnold and Spangler reached the Dry Tortugas, July 20th. Mudd was assigned to duty as Assistant Surgeon, Arnold as clerk, Spangler as carpenter and O'Laughlin to employment in which he can be useful. They were not informed of the change in their destination until they had started. They were unpleasantly affected by it, but seemed greatly pleased when they reached the island to find that it enjoys a fine sea breeze and is healthy.

The New Bedford Mercury, speaking of the devastation by the pirate Shenandoah, says: "On Friday and Saturday the shipowners here effected insurance upon their vessels at offices in New York (the offices here having already their limit) to the amount of over one million of dollars. The rate, fifteen per cent., is heavy, but the sleep of the insured is more quiet. The premium notes are large, but the insured will be better pleased to pay them than to have the amounts deducted upon a settlement of their losses."

WASHINGTON.

Emigration to Mexico

Report on Commerce and Navigation.

Receipts from Internal Revenue

The Conspirator, J. H. Surratt.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, August 2.

All the information received here tends to show that a large

Emigration to Mexico,

From the United States, will take place the coming fall. The Mexican Minister here is literally overwhelmed with letters from all parts of the country, asking what inducements will be offered to emigrants.

The preparation of the report on Commerce and Navigation.

Which is eighteen months behindhand, has been entrusted to other hands, and it is now expected to have it ready by the next session of Congress. The report of 1863 only made its appearance a few days since.

Hon. Isaac N. Arnold,

Hon. Martin F. Conway,

Former Congressman from Kansas, has declined the appointment of Pension Commissioner at Richmond.

The Secretary of the Treasury, after paying the accrued interest on the gold bearing debt, has twenty millions dollars of gold on hand.

Receipts from Internal Revenue

Yesterday amounted to one million and seventy-three thousand dollars.

Major General Butler,

Arrived here this morning. He tried to get an interview with President Johnson, but did not succeed, owing to the President's illness.

Colonel Wilson,

Formerly Chief Commissary of the Army of the Potomac, has been brevetted Brigadier General of volunteers, and Lieutenant Colonel in the regular army.

The Case of Colonel Telford,

Fiftieth Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers, was concluded to-day. Colonel Telford is charged with defrauding the Government in the purchase of horses. The verdict of the court has not yet been promulgated.

The President

Is still too unwell to receive visitors. None except Cabinet Ministers were admitted to-day. The military district of Washington has been discontinued.

The prisoner, heralded from point to point through the West, as being

John H. Surratt,

Arrived here to-day, but was as little like Surratt as he was like Wilkes Booth. His name is given as John G. Ryan. He was arrested in Memphis on suspicion of being concerned in the conspiracy, and he represents himself as having been a Captain in the rebel service in Texas. He was taken to the Old Capitol, and it is understood that his trial will not be delayed, but nothing is as yet known of the nature of the evidence against him.

J. H. SURRATT, THE CONSPIRATOR

His Arrival in Washington.

Doubts as to his Identity

WASHINGTON, August 2.—The Star says at twenty minutes past ten o'clock this morning the train from Baltimore brought in the prisoner reported to be John H. Surratt, in charge of Capt. Smith of the 2d U. S. Artillery, Provost Marshal of Memphis, and under guard of a Sergeant and three men of the 12th Illinois regiment. He was heavily ironed, and on his arrival was escorted to a carriage and driven to the Provost Marshal's office, when Col. Ingraham ordered him to be committed to the Old Capitol Prison.
He was arrested in Memphis on July 19th, by Capt. Smith, not on suspicion of being J. H. Surratt as has been intimated, but on a charge of having been engaged in the conspiracy, and it is said the evidence against him is very conclusive. He gives his name as John S. Ryan, and states that he is from Texas, and has been a captain in the Confederate service.
He bears a singular resemblance in features to the Surratt family, but those who knew John H. Surratt when here, are positive this man is not him. The prisoner was dressed in gray, with a light-colored slouch hat, and is about five feet seven inches in height, rather slim and slender frame, light or sandy hair, fair complexion, slightly freckled, light blue eyes, sharp and rather long nose, and has the knuckle of the little finger of his right hand shot off, apparently by a ball.

IMPORTANT REVENUE DECISION.

Number of National Banks.

Final Issue of Seven-Thirties.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that a mortgage to secure an annuity of five hundred dollars per annum during the life of an annuitant, the present value of the annuity being specified in the condition of the mortgage, which at six thousand dollars is subject to a stamp duty of six dollars. Produce brokers are required to pay a tax of three-quarters per cent. on their sales and are considered brokers under section 9th. This tax is additional to the license tax. The 126th section of the act of June 30th, 1864, declares that for the purpose of this act the term real estate shall include all lands, tenements, corporeal and incorporeal. The Commissioner says it will hardly be contended that lease holders of estates are included in the foregoing enumerations, and what is not expressly included may be reasonably supposed to have been intentionally omitted.
I can see no impropriety in extending the application of the statute to matters beyond the ordinary import of its language, and I therefore decide that the sale and assignment of a lease of agreement ought not to be regarded as a sale of real estate.
The total number of National Banks, chartered since the law of Congress on that subject, is 1,589, with an aggregate capital of $37,000,000, and a circulation of $161,971,180.
The printing of the notes for the last and final issues of the popular 7-30 loan is entirely completed at the Treasury Department, and the entire amount will be issued to subscribers as soon the necessary entries and other clerical work can be performed in the Secretary's office

THE NATIONAL FINANCES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The official statement of the public debt as it appears from the books of the Treasury Department on the 31st of July shows the amount outstanding to be $2,757,253,275 83, divided thus: The debt bearing interest in coin is $1,108,662,641 80, on which the interest is $64,571,857 50. The debt bearing interest in lawful money is $1,289,156,545, on which the interest is $71,740,630 78. The debt on which interest has ceased is $1,527,120. The debt bearing no interest is $357,906,969. The total interest both in coin and lawful money is $120,262,468 28. The legal tender notes in circulation are as follows: one's, two year, $39,954,240; U. S. notes, old issue, $472,602; U. S. notes, new issue, $432,687,966; compound interest notes, March 3, 1863, $15,000,000; compound interest notes, June 30, 1864, is $197,121,470; total legal tenders in circulation, $685,236,269. The amount of fractional currency is $25,758,000. The uncalled for pay requisitions and miscellaneous items of War and Navy Departments amount to $15,736,000. The amount of coin in the Treasury is $25,328,000 and of currency, $81,402,000. Total amount in the Treasury, $116,739,622 59.

Interesting from Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, August 1.—The Washington street Baptist Church at Petersburg was struck by lightning on Saturday night and entirely destroyed.
The United States steamer H. Donaldson from Key West on the 22d ult., arrived. They report no sickness at Key West, and all well on board. A fleet of schooners, about fifty in number, have taken harbor in Hampton Roads, owing to a heavy easterly wind prevailing for the last two days.
The schooners Elizabeth and Eleanor, from Richmond, with forty-two cannon, captured from the rebels, arrived to-day. Some are rough, unfinished castings. Among them is a Whitworth gun that during the latter part of last summer played upon Gen. Butler's signal tower on the James river. The gun bears the following inscriptions: "Whitworth Ordnance Co., Manchester, 1860," and "Richmond Arsenal, Aug. 22d, 1864."
A colored man was murdered in Eastville, eastern shore yesterday, by two confederate soldiers. One is arrested and is in jail, the other escaped.

The Election in Virginia.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—Gov. Pierpont has addressed a notice to justices of the county courts of Virginia, saying he has reliable information that, in a number of counties in the State, persons have been elected to the offices of the Commonwealth, Attorney, Sheriff, Commissioner of Revenue and Clerk of the Court, and in some instances Justices of the Peace, who are disqualified by the clause of the Constitution which excludes from voting or holding office, any persons who have held any office under, or been a member of any so called Confederate Congress or Legislature. The Justices are directed to consider all offices above referred to, to which persons so disqualified shall have been elected, vacant, and to order elections immediately to fill such vacancies.

From New Orleans.

Steamboats Burned and Robbed

Gov. Hamilton at Houston, Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, August 1.—The steamer Lillie, with seven hundred bales of cotton, was burned on the river. No lives were lost.
The steamer Joseph Pierce exploded twenty miles below Vicksburg, and subsequently caught fire and burned to the water's edge, killing six and wounding twenty-eight men. The scalding steam passed through every part of the boat. The whole air was filled with pieces of timber, boards and bricks.
The steamer Dove was boarded by robbers on the Yazoo river, on Sunday afternoon, and robbed of twenty thousand dollars and other valuables. They opened an indiscriminate fire on the passengers, wounding the mate and one passenger. The passengers were stripped of their valuables.
Governor Hamilton reached Houston on the 26th en route for Austin, meeting with a warm reception.
The Houston Telegraph, of the 27th, mentions the arrival of officers of Shelby's party. Shelby encamped near Monterey with four or five hundred men, quiet and orderly, undisturbed by the authorities, sold his artillery and other plunder, trying to get a grant of land and other inducements to colonize.
The Adams Express Company are extending their connections in Texas.

Movements of General Grant.

BRUNSWICK, ME., August 2.—General Grant arrived at 2:45 this afternoon from Portland. He was received at the depot by the officers, alumni and students of the Bowdoin college and an immense crowd of people, and enthusiastically welcomed. A procession was formed, preceded by the Germania band, and marshalled by Brigadier General Hyde, which escorted General Grant and his family and staff, accompanied by Generals Howard, Ayres, and Chamberlain and others. They attended the closing exercises of the Commencement, where the degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon the General.
At the Commencement no inducement could obtain a speech from him.
General Grant will attend the reception extended to returned soldiers of Bowdoin this evening.
He leaves for Portland to-night and to-morrow will visit Augusta.

The Negro Suffrage Question.

MEETING OF COLORED PERSONS.

WASHINGTON, August 2.—Colored delegates to the number of fifty, from various counties of Virginia, met at Alexandria to-day, their object being to secure the right of suffrage and other benefits. The proceedings were varied by a long, angry and threatening debate on the subject of excluding three colored men from the District of Columbia who appeared as delegates in behalf of their Fredericksburg brethren. They were finally admitted to seats. The spectators numbered 400 or 500, including a few white persons, and among the latter several ex-rebel officers. A public meeting was held to-night at Alexandria and addressed by Rev. Highland Garland, of Washington, Rev. J. M. Brown, of Baltimore, and Fieters Cook, of Richmond, all colored.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The Atlantic Telegraph Cable.

HEART'S CONTENT, via ASPY BAY, August 2.—The steamer Hibernia from Glasgow on the 22d of July, was intercepted off Cape Race, at 2 P.M. and the City of Dublin from Liverpool on the 22d, via Queenstown, for New York, was intercepted off the same point an hour later. Their news is anticipated.
Crowds are beginning to gather from all parts of the Island to witness the landing of the Atlantic cable. The Great Eastern was to leave Valentia, Monday, July 24.

Promotion of Brig. Gen. Howard.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Brigadier-General O. O. Howard, late Major-General of volunteer forces, has been brevetted Major-General in the regular army, to date from the 30th of March, for gallant and meritorious service.

Cricket Match.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The Cricket match between St. George's and New York clubs: First day, first innings of each party—St. George, 155; New York, 102.

JEFFERSON COLLEGE.

The Gubernatorial Succession.

[From the Harrisburg Telegraph.]

Although the Constitutional term of the present incumbent of the Gubernatorial chair of Pennsylvania will not expire until 1867, the people are looking among the prominent men of the Commonwealth for a fit man to serve as a successor to the distinguished statesman now at the head of the affairs of the State. Some of our cotemporaries have already placed the names of favorite statesmen at the head of their columns as the choice of the people of such localities for this high office. Other journals have indicated their preferences in allusions to other eminent men for the same position, and we now have prominently before the people, for the Gubernatorial succession, such men as Hon. J. K. Moorhead, Hon. Morton McMichael, Hon. W. W. Ketcham, Hon. John Covode, General Herron, Colonel A. K. McClure, and Hon. Francis Jordan. These gentlemen have all had more or less experience in public affairs; they are all men of the highest integrity and ability, while each, so far as his individual influence and service extended, exhibited the noblest devotion to the country during its struggles with the lately conquered rebellion. However distant the period for the election of a Governor, we are firmly convinced that either of the gentlemen named in connection with the nomination could be triumphantly elected.

We learn by the the Buffalo Courier that "an Express Company has been organized at Syracuse, under the name of the 'National Banker's Express Company,' with a capital of $10,000,000, divided into shares of $100, on which one per cent. will be paid with the subscription, and four per cent. on the call of the Executive Committee."

COUNCIL MEETINGS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny City Councils will be held this evening. A special meeting of the Common Council of this city will also be held to-night.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.—The committees appointed at the last meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Association will meet on Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, at the Board of Trade rooms, Wood street. A general attendance is requested.

SOLDIER'S MONUMENT.—The various committees of the Allegheny County Soldier's Monument Association are requested to meet at the Board of Trade Rooms on Saturday afternoon next. The importance of the project should ensure a large attendance.

PERSONAL.—Major General Frank J. Herron, arrived in this city yesterday morning, and met with a cordial reception from his friends. The General has earned a reputation for efficiency and bravery which places him high on the list of veteran officers.

THE "DOG LAW."—Yesterday four members of the day police were detailed by the Mayor to enforce the city ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large, unless provided with a "good and sufficient muzzle." Persons owning valuable dogs should pay attention to this fact, and thereby prevent their meeting with a sudden and violent death.

FALSE PRETENSES.—A colored barber named Zach Kane was arrested in Allegheny yesterday, by Chief of Police Elkin, on complaint of Mr. James Bradley, the proprietor of a livery stable on Ohio street, who charged him with procuring a horse and buggy from his stable, and injuring the horse by driving him at an immoderate rate of speed. Kane gave bail for his appearance this morning to answer the charge.

CONFEREE MEETING.—Pursuant to adjournment the Senatorial Conferees of Butler, Lawrence and Armstrong counties will meet at the Monongahela House this morning, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for State Senator. The candidates are: Rev. Robert Audley Brown, late Chaplain of the Roundhead Regiment, from Lawrence county; Gen. John N. Purviance, from Butler, and Col. S. M. Jackson, from Armstrong.

FORMAL RAILROAD OPENING.—There was a formal opening of the North Western Railroad on Tuesday, through from Saltsburg to Freeport. Cars have been running on the road for some time. A new schedule of running time is now adopted, and citizens in the vicinity of Saltsburg now come to Pittsburgh by that road, which allows them two hours longer in Pittsburgh for business than they can have between the accommodation trains of the Pennsylvania railroad.

EFFECTS OF WHISKY.—Last evening a man laboring under the effects of an attack of delirium tremens, was taken to the watch-house, where he is still lying in a precarious condition. He states that his name is John Lamburn, and that he resides in Oil City. He has been in the city about ten days, during which time he has been drinking excessively, and has not eaten a meal for a week. He is completely prostrated, and Dr. Rogers, his attending physician, entertains but slight hopes of his recovery.

PHI KAPPA PSI.—This great collegiate fraternity assembles to-day in convention at the Board of Trade Rooms. It has already become celebrated throughout the country. The delegates of the various chapters have arrived. Judging from the number who are now in the city the proceedings of this grand council promise to be of the most interesting character. The East and the West bring flattering reports. Many chapters in the South, on account of the communication being interrupted, will probably not be present.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS CONVENTION.—The friends and advocates of constitutional reform, and all who desire to hear the subject discussed, are to meet in convention on the 17th day of August next in the U. P. Church, (Rev. French's), near Canonsburgh, Pa.; at 11 o'clock A. M., where the Washington County Auxiliary Society for the Amendment of the Constitution of the United States will hold its regular annual meeting, and be addressed by the Rev. George C. Vincent, D. D., of Westminster College, Pa., Rev. Thomas Sproul, D. D., of the R. P. Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, and Rev. John Eagleson, D. D., of Washington, Pa.

LARCENY OF POWDER.—Yesterday Mr. James Halloran, doing business at the corner of Water and First streets, called upon Mayor Lowry, and stated that he had reason to believe that ten kegs and four boxes of powder and three hundred feet of fuse had been stolen from his establishment by a man named John McMahon, and desired that a warrant be issued to search his house. Officer Willison took charge of the matter and upon proceeding to McMahon's house, Liberty street, in the Fifth ward, found the powder concealed in the cellar. McMahon, however, was not at home, and has not yet been arrested.

SERIOUS CHARGE PREFERRED AGAINST A WOMAN—Mrs. Weyman, a resident of Birmingham, was taken before United Stated Commissioner Sproul yesterday, on a charge of perjury. It appears that her husband entered the army at the commencement of the war, and was killed after serving a few months. She procured a pension from the Government, and although she married again about fifteen months ago, continued to call regularly upon the Government agents for her allowance, and took the oath required by law. The fraud was detected yesterday, when the prosecution was instituted. Mr. Sproul held her to bail in the sum of fifteen hundred dollars for her appearance at court to answer.

AN INCORRIGIBLE BOY.—Yesterday morning a man named Atkinson, a resident of the First ward, Allegheny, made a complaint before Mayor Morrison against his son, a youth of about fourteen years, charging him with incorrigibility. It appeared from the father's statement that he could not control his son, who associated with the worst characters in the city, and would absent himself from his home for days. The boy was arrested, and, at the request of his father, sent to the house of Refuge. While at the Mayor's Office the boy conducted himself outrageously, cursing his parent and threatening to kill him upon his release from the Refuge. His actions disgusted the spectators of the scene, who regretted that the ungrateful fellow could not be sent to the Penitentiary instead of the Refuge.

A RUNAWAY.—Yesterday afternoon, as a resident of Indiana township was driving a two-horse wagon along Liberty street, the horses became frightened and ran away, throwing the driver violently to the ground, cutting him severely on the head and face. The horses dashed along the street at a fearful rate of speed until they arrived at the corner of Liberty and Seventh streets, when the wagon came in contact with Messrs. Gracey & Co.'s oil office, smashing the door, cornices and sign. A little boy who was standing in the door a few moments before, escaped by running out of the rear of the office. Gracey & Co. insisted upon the owner of the wagon paying for the damages which they sustained, and upon his refusing to do so, had him arrested. The case was finally compromised at the Mayor's office, when the countryman was permitted to depart for his home.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.—The Eighth Michigan regiment, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Doyle, passed through the city yesterday morning, on their way home, and were entertained by the Subsistence Committee at City Hall. The regiment entered the service in August, 1861, and numbered at that time one thousand men, but less than three hundred return. It being the last returning regiment of the First Division of the Ninth Corps, it had the honor of receiving the Division colors, which they are taking to Michigan. Dr. W. B. Fox, Regimental Surgeon, returned thanks to the citizens of Pittsburgh for the kind reception extended, after which the regiment left for the West.
Yesterday afternoon the One-hundred and-ninety-seventh Ohio regiment, numbering seven hundred and fifty men, under command of Colonel Holston, arrived in the city, and dined at City Hall. The Great Western Brass Band escorted the regiment to and from the depot.

Robberies in the City.

On Tuesday night, about nine o'clock, Mr. Joseph Abel's drug store, corner of Fifth and Grant streets, was entered by some thief, who robbed the till of eight or nine dollars in change. Mr. Abel was in the back part of the store at the time, but was so situated that he could not command a view of the money drawer, and the thief escaped with his booty.

Yesterday morning, about two o'clock, a clothing store on the corner of Wood and Sixth street was entered, and a quantity of clothing stolen. The robbery was conducted with such secrecy that the watchman on the beat knew nothing about it until some hours after its occurrence. A number of expert thives are now prowling around the city, and persons cannot be too careful with the fastenings of their doors and windows. Last night before the night police went on duty, the Mayor addressed them, and urged them to increased vigilance. He also instructed them to arrest all suspicious characters and corner loafers they might meet on their beats.

The Outrage at East Liberty.

The horrible outrage in Winebiddie's Woods, referred to in yesterday's COMMERCIAL, was one of the most brutal ever perpetrated in this vicinity. The victim was a German girl, named Mary Cookie, about twelve years of age, who resided with her father in the Fifth Ward, this city. The outrage was perpetrated about half-past ten o'clock Tuesday morning, and the particulars are thus narrated: The injured girl and two other small girls were gathering berries, when the brute approached them, talking pleasantly. He told them that berries was very plenty a short distance beyond; that he would go with them; that his sister was there and she would assist them to fill their baskets. The outraged girl was prevailed on to accompany him, but they had only proceeded a short distance, when she was thrown down, and he put his hand over her mouth to prevent her from making a noise. She begged him to desist, but all to no purpose, until the fiend had accomplished his purpose, when he ran away. The poor child proceeded to the residence of her aunt as well as she could, and on her arrival nature gave way, and she became insensible, in which state she remained some time. Dr. Davis was immediately sent for, and fortunately being at home, he proceeded to the house. He found the little sufferer in a critical condition, and continued with her some hours. When he left, on Wednesday morning, she seemed to be easier. Dr. Gross was also called in by Dr. Davis, and all that skill and attention can do for the little sufferer will be cheerfully done. The doctors decline giving an opinion as to whether she will survive the injuries or not. It will take some days to determine that fact, and all will depend on whether inflammation can be suppressed. The child is small of her age. Her mother died some time since, and at the time of the outrage was on a visit to her aunt. No arrest has yet been made and as word was not conveyed to the police until Wednesday morning, thus giving the ruffian plenty of time to get out of the way, he has probably made his escape. He was well dressed, and had the appearance of a gentleman. He has been seen roaming in the vicinity where the deed was perpetrated for some days, and can easily be identified. He is a young man, supposed to be about thirty years old, dressed in a new suit of black cloth; makes a fine apearance; hair black; has a mustache and imperial, and the balance of his face shaved smooth.
It seems that outrages of this description are becoming alarmingly frequent. Scarcely a day goes by we do not hear of outrages of the worst character, and if summary punishment was inflicted in a few cases there would be less in the future.

Crop Correspondence.

We shall feel under great obligations to whoever will write us, briefly and reliably, concerning the crops wherever the COMMERCIAL circulates. It is facts we want, and at the earliest possible moment, concerning every crop—not forgetting the grape. Will growers and others take a little time to contribute what they can to render as complete as possible information which, when collected, will be of great value?

The Richmond Election.

The New York Times takes ground against the act of Gen. TURNER suppressing the late election in Richmond. His reasons, it thinks, are insufficient. If the election was held, in all respects, according to law, it should have stood, even though it was virtually a rebel victory and proclaimed as such. It is maintained that it would have been time enough to squelch the newly chosen city government, when they had acted as rebels and done something to bring them within the province of the military authorities.

There may be some force in the position of the Times; but it cannot be disguised that the election in Richmond was a proceeding in direct parallel with the incipient acts of the rebellion; strictly legal, perhaps, but essentially rebellious and designed to lead on to open treason and defiance of the general government,—acts which, because they were not squelched, did produce the rebellion. Had President BUCHANAN taken the JACKSONIAN view of the subject and acted accordingly, there would have been no rebellion. We venture to suggest that on the very first dawning of treason or of a feeling or purpose inimical to genuine loyalty, is the moment for action. Had there been such action at the dawn of secession, history would not have recorded the War of the Rebellion.

A Sentiment to Live By.

In the Senate of the United States, March 2d, 1861, when the rebellious spirit was first dawning, ANDREW JOHNSON made a speech, all of which is good reading for the present time, and some of which is particularly suitable to those inquiring minds which want to know what will be done with Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS. The particular passage to which we allude reads as follows:

> Mr. President, when I was interrupted by a motion to clear the galleries, I was making a general allusion to treason as defined in the Constitution of the United States, and to those who were traitors and guilty of treason within the scope and meaning of the law and the Constitution. My proposition was, that if they would show me who were guilty of the offenses I have enumerated I would show them who were the traitors. That being done, were I the President of the United States, I would do as Thomas Jefferson did in 1806 with Aaron Burr, who was charged with treason; and, if convicted, by the Eternal God they should suffer the penalty of the law at the hands of the executioner. Sir, treason must be punished. Its enormity and the extent and depth of the offense must be made known. The time is not distant, if this Government is preserved, its Constitution obeyed, and its laws executed in every department, when something of this kind must be done.

Now, if anybody can find in the subsequent declarations of ANDREW JOHNSON a single word not consistent with the above, if there can be found a single act of his that justifies the belief that he will not live up to this sentiment, then a doubt may be entertained as to what will be done with Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS. The sentiment is good enough for the President to live by, and JEFF to die by.

THE PROGRESS OF PRINCIPLE.—The troubles which have been developed in reconstructing Tennessee, have caused the minds of many reasonable people to embrace the idea that in extended suffrage is to be found the only solution. There are in that State thousands of black men of the requisite intelligence to be the match of thousands more of white men, of whom they are immensely the superiors in other respects. It begins to be perceived that by enfranchising the intelligent colored man the disloyal element will have an antidote. Nowhere else can it be found, and it must be obtained from some quarter or other, or anarchy and the spirit of rebellion will rule the State. The Nashville Press and Times says the public mind is being turned in this direction, and that paper openly takes the ground that "as the government must remain in the hands of the friends of the United States government, the instrumentality by which government is maintained must be placed in the hands of all intelligent friends of the government." When the cause of the Union was sorely pressed, men came to recognize the fact that if the government was to be saved, it must be saved by the efforts of all in favor of the Union and against the rebels; and thus, there being no reason to be offered why the negro should not fight for that which he was for, two hundred thousand of them were enlisted into the army. The case is a parallel one.

The Crop Scare.

The great producing region of the West has had a big scare. The heavy rains of last week, it is true, were well calculated to produce one, but the speculators set up such a dismal howl that they not only frightened everybody else, but some of them actually convinced themselves, and thereby lost heavily. The scare is over, and the crops are safe, although in some quarters no small damage has been sustained. The universal testimony is that there will be a larger aggregate crop than ever before harvested.

The Titles of Books.

There are fashions in title pages. They are almost as variable as those which regulate or derange the habiliments of our ladies, fair, and they often aid us as little in ascertaining the character and condition of the articles which they represent. JOHNSON'S Rambler was a puzzling title to the French, and led a gentleman of that polite nation to drink the author's health with the dubious compliment of addressing him as Mr. Vagabond. Titles have been the making of some books, which would otherwise have expired on the publisher's hands. They have also been millstones around the necks of others. An English novel with the title, "The Champion of Virtue," dragged so heavily that the author in consternation changed its title to "The Old English Baron," when it run through several editions.

The fashion has sometimes been, to fill the title page with the entire resume of the book, and again to make it meagre and bare even to nakedness. Obscure titles have sometimes been affected; sometimes quaint ones, sometimes ambiguous ones. "The Heart of Aaron," is a commentary on the Prophets. "The Bones of Joseph," a Jewish work on the Talmud. Latin titles to English books were in high favor for a time, not only among theologians, but jurists and scholars. "Origines Sacræ" is a valuable work of STILLINGFLEET. "Lex. Rex," meaning law, the King, is a book, now rare, by a Scotch minister (SAMUEL RUTHERFORD,) in which the principles of free, popular government are broached and advocated with remarkable clearness for those times—one hundred and fifty years ago. The Puritan age of England was prolific of valuable religious books with queer titles, such as "Matches Lighted at the Divine Fire," "The Gem of Penitence," "The Broken Reed." Alliteration was carried to a ridiculous length, so it seems to our modern taste, both in composition and titles. A sample of this is, "Some Baskets (biscuits) baked in the Oven of Charity, carefully conserved for the Chickens of the Church, the Sparrows of the Spirit, and the sweet Swallows of Salvation." WILSON'S Art of Rhetoric blames the overmuch fondness for repetition of one letter, of which he gives a sample truly terrific—"pitiful poverty prayeth for a panic, but puffed presumption pampereth his paunch with pestilent pleasure, &c." A classical editor of high note published, in 1576, excerpts from EURIPIDES, OVID, and modern poetical writers, under a title too long to insert entire in a newspaper article. We give a part of it: "A hundred sundry flowers, bound up in one small posy—yielding sundry sweet savors of tragical, comical, and moral discourses, both pleasant and profitable to the well-smelling noses of learned readers."

THERE are two gentlemen running for Congress in North Carolina, who might as well, after what they have said, omit further trouble or expense. They are WILLIAM A. GRAHAM and J. P. H. RUSS. The former declares that he will under no circumstances consent to the restoration of the State, if negro suffrage is to be one of the conditions; and the other coolly gives notice that he would re-enslave every negro in the State. It may be that with such sentiments they will be elected; indeed we do not much doubt they will, but there are numerous reasons why they never can take their seats, not the least formidable is the oath which all members are required to take.

THE LONDON TIMES ON THE FATE OF THE ASSASSINS.—The London Times has heard of the hanging of PAYNE, Mrs. SURRATT and the two other assassins, and for the first time thinks the right thing has been done. It says:—"Against the severity of these sentences not a word can be said. The lives of BOOTH and his fellow-conspirators were most justly forfeited. Human judges can recognize no excuse for assassination. If tyrannicide can ever be justified as an appeal to a higher law, it must be justified before a higher tribunal than any earthly judgment seat."

IF IT is not asking too much, we would be glad to see the following extract from a letter by Gen. SHERMAN transferred to the columns of the Pittsburgh Post:

> "As to the punishment for past crimes, that is for the judiciary, and I can in no manner of way be disturbed by our act, and so far as I can, I will use my influence that the rebels shall suffer all the punishment prescribed by law, as also the civil liabilities arising from their past acts."

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY.

Remarkable Exposition by Gen. Cox, the Union Candidate for Governor of Ohio—Homogeneity Impossible—Separation of the Races—Opposition to Negro Suffrage.

Gen. J. D. COX, the Union candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been interrogated by a committee representing the Oberlin radicals, as to his position on the question of giving the negro the right of elective franchise. Two questions were propounded for his consideration; first, as to modifying the Constitution of Ohio so as to recognize the colored man as a voter, and second, as to whether in the re-organization of the Southern States, the right of suffrage should be secured to the colored people. The Oberlin committee assure the General that the people they represent were unanimously in favor of his nomination, and are now equally unanimous in desiring his election. But they have heard rumors in regard to his views on the negro question which have startled them, and they accordingly demand an explicit statement of his views. After stating the point to which they direct his attention, they proceed to give the opinions entertained by themselves, and to intimate that it would be altogether consonant with their feelings if he should govern himself accordingly, and return an affirmative answer to their interrogatories, so that they may be "able to contradict any false reports that may be in circulation regarding your (his) views on this subject." The letter was written under date of July 24th at Oberlin. The reply of General Cox was written the following day at Columbus, and although his views are somewhat remarkable, the letter clearly shows that had they been matured before the writer's attention was directed to the subject, and are not to be taken as the crude and hastily considered opinions of the politician.

The General notices the fact that the Committee have omitted to inform him what body or organization they represent, or to furnish him with the proceedings by which the subject has been committed to their charge. The omission would not signify, were it not that it may be of importance to know who they are with whom the Committee act, and for whom it is declared that a hearty concurrence in the principles laid down by the Convention that nominated him, shall not be sufficient to secure their votes. He then states his view of political organizations, explains how far in his judgment a candidate is bound to adhere to the party platform, and reviews the principles embraced in the resolutions of the Convention by which he was nominated.

It is to be remarked that the General avoids the question which, more closely than the other, affects the people whose Governor he seeks to become. In a State canvas it is not of much importance what policy shall prevail in the reconstruction of the South, except so far as it may influence general results, and we are at some loss to know why General Cox has passed over in silence a question upon which, if elected, he will undoubtedly have to act officially, to elaborate his views upon a subject he will really have nothing to do with. It is of infinitely more importance to the people of Ohio to know what his views are in regard to permitting colored men to vote in that State, than it is to know what he thinks about allowing them to vote in South Carolina. It may be that he would answer this objection by saying that the question is not involved in his platform, and that he is not bound to go outside of it in his discussions. Grant this, and the answer would be insufficient, for the reason that he claims the right to discuss questions not included in his platform, and that in the exercise of that right he discusses the question of negro suffrage in the South.

The letter as far as it goes is frank, manly and original. The views it contains are not consonant with those of the committee, and will undoubtedly startle the Oberlin people much more than they were by the mere rumor of the General's position. Relying on the correctness of his opinions, he makes a bold and vigorous charge on the enemy's works with much apparent confidence in the result.

He claims that his conclusions have been derived from experience and observation in the South during the war, and says:

> I shall expect the facts that I have been an anti-slavery man from my youth up, that I assisted at the original organization of the Republican party, and acted with it, and the Union party, ever since, and that I have been a Federal soldier from the surrender of Sumter to the surrender of the last armed rebel, will secure me a candid and even a friendly hearing from all who have loved the country, and earnestly taken its part in the late terrible struggle.

If other views than his should prevail, he promises that he shall ever regard it his duty to act cheerfully and promptly with the loyal people of the country. He believes President JOHNSON to be actuated by an earnest desire to secure the good of the whole country, and of all the races in it, and that his support of him shall not be a half-hearted support, but a zealous and thoroughly hearty co-operation, with no ulterior purpose or thought of separation or issues likely to arise."

He quotes the four general principles of the "Faneuil Hall Address," and presumes that the committee and himself shall agree in regarding them as those which shall determine our relation with both whites and blacks in the rebel States; but with the last principle of the Address he cannot agree. He assents, however, to the assertion that in a republican community political privileges of any kind can never be rightly or safely based upon a hereditary caste.

In regard to the difference between them in the mode of carrying out the principles of the Address, he says:

> You, judging from this distance, say: "Deliver the four millions of freed people into the hands of their former oppressors, now embittered by their defeat, and they will make their condition worse than before." I, starting from the same principles, and after four years of close and thoughtful observation of the races where they are, say I am unwillingly forced to the conviction that the effect of the war has not been simply to "embitter" their relations, but to develop a rooted antagonism which makes their permanent fusion in one political community an absolute impossibility.
> The sole difference between us, then, is in the degree of hostility we find existing between the races, and its probable permanence. You assume that the extension of the right of suffrage to the blacks, leaving them intermixed with the whites, will cure all the trouble. I believe that it would rather be like the decisions in that outer darkness of which Milton speaks, where
> "Chaos umpire sits,
> And by decision more embroils the fray."

He declares the remedy to be the peaceable separation of the races. It may be argued that foreign colonization would break down under the vastness of the labor, even if it would not be an outrage to expel these unfortunate people from the land of their birth. He, however, does not propose foreign colonization, but sees a solution in the separation of the races on the soil where they now are.

After dividing the discussion into two questions, one of fact as to the actual relations of the two races in the South, and the other of theory as to the probable future consequences of these relations, he remarks:

> The antagonism of which I have spoken is not entirely one-sided. On the part of the former master it takes the form of an indomitable pride, which utterly refuses to entertain the idea of political or social equality, mingled with a hatred intensified by the circumstances and results of the war. This feeling is not confined to the slave-owners alone, but the poor whites share it fully, and often show it more passionately.
> On the part of the freedmen it is manifested in an utter distrust of the dominant race, and an enmity which, although made by circumstances more passive and less openly manifested, is as real and implacable as the other. They have the natural attraction of races among themselves, and repulsion of the whites as another people, developed to a degree which surprised me. It is not as individuals of a nation common to us all, that they speak of themselves, but, to use the language of one of them, speaking to myself, they feel that they "have long been an oppressed and downtrodden people."

It has been declared that slavery in itself is a state of war, and that this character is impressed upon both races. He had realized this characteristic in the South during the war, and believed it. The daily and hourly repetition of proofs of this fact, many of them too subtle for description, has convinced him that never between Norman and Saxon, Gaul and Frank, was there a more conscious hatred, or an antagonism more likely to prove inveterate, than between black and white in the South. Even if offered political rights the negroes will never feel secure, nor have confidence in their former masters. In proof of the permanence and durability of the prejudice of races he quotes THIERRY'S History of the Roman conquest. If fifteen centuries of common government have not obliterated distinctions of races physiologically similar, we need not hope for success in an attempt to fuse by force the hostile races of the South. It does not become us, having just emerged from a war of the descendants of a common ancestry, to argue that peaceful discussion will settle differences which in former years were settled by the sword, but to build our polity solidly upon principles which experience, as well as reason, prove to be durable.

During the war he had pondered the problem, and been impelled to believe that the only basis of permanent nationality is to be found in complete homogeneity of people, manners and laws. The fusion of the races of Western Europe on our shores has secured the former of these requisites, and the Yankee race, with its salient characteristics, "is so complete an amalgamation of all families from the eastern boundary of Germany to the western coast of Ireland, that there are few of us in whose veins are not mixed the blood of several."

> But this unhappy race of which we speak does not amalgamate with the rest. Because there could be no real unity of people between the Southern whites and Southern blacks it seems manifest to me that there could be no political unity, but rather a strife for the mastery, in which the one or the other would go to the wall. The struggle for supremacy would be direct and immediate, and I see no hope whatever that the weaker race would not be reduced to hopeless subjection, or utterly destroyed."

He had observed during the war that while our white soldiers quickly realized that the Union could only be saved by the destruction of slavery, and so became radically anti-slavery, battling for the old flag tended to increase and deepen their pride of race.

He does not attempt to specify any detailed plan of separation, for such a thing can only be done after careful study and a wide comparison of views. The following is what he offers in its stead:

> Suppose, however, that without breaking up the organization of any State, you take contiguous territory in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida, and there, under the sovereignty of the United States, and with all the facilities which the power and wealth of the Government can give, we organize the freedmen in a dependency of the Union analogous to the western territories. Give them schools, laws facilitating the acquirement of homesteads to be paid for by their own labor, full and exclusive political privileges, aided at the start, should it seem necessary, by wise selection from the largest brains and most philanthropic hearts among anti-slavery men, to join them, a judiciary or executive which would command their confidence in the first essays of political existence. There need be no coercive collection of the colored race in the designated region; the majority are there now, and the reward of political power would draw thither the remainder quite as rapidly as their place could be supplied by white immigration into other States. The forts and seaport cities could remain under the direct control of the Federal Government, as the basis for that common trade and intercourse with other parts of the country and the world, which would be necessary. The fullest opportunity to develop the highest civilization they are capable of, would then be given. Colored men of talent and intelligence would not then make a vain struggle for the empty name of being lawyers without briefs, or merchants without trade, but would have, what a leading journal at the East has frequently demanded for them, the opportunity, as well as the right, to take rank according to their real character and ability.

That the realization of this plan would be difficult he concedes. It is natural for men to avoid responsibility, and to drift on the currents trusting to fate. Drifting in this matter will probably involve the destruction of the black race. The labor of the South remaining in their hands will retain the most material effects of slavery and prevent that homogeneity, North and South, which is essential to a lasting peace. The whites and the blacks in the South are irreconcilably hostile. As a unit we must deal with the latter, and not palter with the edges of the difficulty. "The magnitude of the problem is immense, but the principles which must decide it one way or the other are simple."

He had approached the subject as an anti-slavery man, given it his deepest thought, and tested all his opinions by the fundamental principles of right and justice. The solution he offers:

> —"gives to the black man political rights and franchises without onerous terms: it reduces the representation of the Southern whites in Congress to a proper basis, their own numbers; it secures the permanent peace of the Government, and the allegiance of the people, by the only sure guaranty, viz: that of common interest and identity of institutions. What more would you have?"

It is likely to attract co-operation on the part of reflecting men in the South, as any plan which recognizes the facts stated and endeavors to provide for them, will tend to promote the harmony and prosperity of that locality. We must remember that our ultimate object is to restore the people of the South to equal enjoyment with us in the blessings of free government. There will be delays, but in the end the genius of our institutions will permit no unequal or sectional laws. The homogeneity must be made perfect and complete.

The National Teachers' Association.

The Teachers' National Association will meet in Harrisburg on the 16th, 17th and 18th days of the present month. On Wednesday, 17th, the address of welcome will be delivered by Governor Curtin, immediately after which the President of the Association will deliver the annual address. In the afternoon papers will be read and discussed on the following subjects: "The Mechanism of School Teaching," by W. N. Barringer, Troy, N. Y.; "Normal Schools, with their Distinctive Characteristics, should be established and maintained in each State, at Public Expense," by Prof. R. Edwards, President of Normal University, Illinois; "Phonetic Methods of Teaching and Reading," by Hon. John D. Philbrick, Superintendent of Boston Public Schools. On Thursday, a paper will be discussed on "The Best Methods of Teaching the Classics," by Prof. A. Harkness, Providence, R. I. The Committee on "Object Teaching, as pursued at Oswego," will report. Immediately after this report, the members of the Association are invited to join in an excursion to Gettysburg, where it is expected parties will be present to point out the most interesting localities of that eventful battle field. On Friday, the election of officers will take place; an address delivered by Hon. Henry Bernard on "The Principle of Association for the Improvement of Schools;" address by Hon. Thaddeus Stevens; discussion of a paper on "The Supervision of Graded Schools," by Hon. E. E. White, State Superintendent of Ohio Schools; lecture on "Education as an Element in the Reconstruction of the Union," by Prof. J. P. Wickersham, Principal of State Normal School at Millersville, Pa. An address is also expected from Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard, Superintendent of Freedmen's Bureau. The following topics have been proposed for discussion during the session of the association: "What service can this Association render towards the establishment of Free Schools in the States lately in Rebellion." "The Relations of the National Government to Education." "How to Cure the Evil of Irregular attendance at our Public Schools."

JEFF. DAVIS'S CASE IN ENGLAND.—The London Star can't help thinking that the hanging of the conspirators is ominous of the fate of JEFF. DAVIS. The New York incendiaries were hung, the assassins were hung, and, though there is no similarity between the cases, it thinks the next thing will be to hang the chief of the rebellion. The Star says:

> We do not share in the belief that the Government is postponing the trial with a view of permitting the angry feelings of the people to subside, so as to give the arch-rebel a better chance to escape. Any manœuvering of that kind would be discountenanced by all the leading officials from the President downward, who are too much imbued with respect for the law to trifle with its enactments. Mr. Davis will no doubt be tried with great solemnity upon an indictment carefully and elaborately prepared, and while the law will not be strained against him, its requirements will not be set aside to save him from any of its merited penalties.

THE Rebel cotton loan in London keeps alive equal to a fire in a sulphur heap. At last accounts it was selling for eight pounds ten shillings on one hundred pounds of stock. It would seem that even now there are holders of this stock so ignorant or so infatuated as to believe that it may yet be redeemed. The fact that it is thus kept alive is a fair commentary on the average of British intelligence.

THE STATE FAIR.—The preparations for the annual exhibition of the State Agricultural Society at Williamsport, in September next, are being made on a most liberal scale. Hon. EDGAR COWAN, of Greensburg, United States Senator, has been appointed to deliver the annual address.

PERSONAL.

The Intelligencer, of Edwardsville, Ill., a copperhead journal, formally puts forth the name of Major General W. T. Sherman, of Ohio, as its candidate for president in 1868.

Miss Pauline Barnum, daughter of the showman, was thrown from her horse the other day, in Fairfield, Conn., and injured so that it is thought she cannot recover.

It is said that when Barnum asked Horace Greeley what he should do after his museum was burned up, the philosopher advised him to take life easy and go a fishing. "I've been waiting to go a fishing for thirty years," said H. G., "and haven't had a chance yet."

Robert Strader's fine trotting mare, Kitty, valued at $2,500, died quite suddenly at the Cincinnati Trotting Park on Friday. Mr. Strader has been very unfortunate with his horses during the past year, having lost five, valued at $10,000, within that time.

The Annual Commencement of the Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, will take place on the 10th instant. The Rev. W. B. Sprague, D. D., of Albany, New York, will deliver the address before the Phrenakosmian Society, and the Rev. R. C. Hitchcock, D. D., of New York, will address the Philomatheans. The meeting of the Alumni will be held on the evening of the 9th, when the Rev. M. Valentine, of Reading, Pa., one of the Alumni, will deliver the customary address.

Mr. Jay Cooke, who has made such a handsome thing out of government loans, of which he has disposed of the round sum of one thousand two hundred and seventy-four millions, is the owner of Gibraltar Island in Put-in-Bay, Lake Erie. There he keeps open house, and dispenses a liberal hospitality. Many clergymen are his guests, and are enabled by his kindness to enjoy a delightful summer vacation without expense to themselves. For several years past Mr. Cooke has been in the habit of supporting a number of missionaries for the evangelization of the heathen in different parts of the world.

Princess Helena Augusta Victoria, of Great Britain, fifth child and third daughter of Queen Alexandria Victoria Virginia and Prince Albert, of Saxe Coburg Gotha, is engaged to be married to William Nicholas Alexander Frederick Charles Henry, of Holland, Prince of Orange, son of William III and Queen Sophie Frederique Mathilde, daughter of William I, of Wurtemburg. The happy couple will be well matched. The young lady was born May 25, 1846, and is now in her twentieth year; the young gentleman was born September 4, 1840, and is in his twenty-fifth year. The British Royal Marriage Act, which declares that no member of the royal family shall marry a Catholic, limits the number of eligible young men who may mate with the roses of England, and compels these young ladies to assent to "Hobson's choice." The Princess Helena, rumor says, has already felt the pangs of disappointment in consequence of that cruel law, having given her heart to a handsome young nobleman who loved unwisely and too well.

To Soldiers---Waltham Watches

Let every soldier, before he returns home, provide himself with an American Watch; no better use can be made of money than to invest it in one of these durable and accurate time-pieces. It is a kind of property that constantly returns good interest, and its money value is so well known that a pocket full of silver dollars wouldn't be as useful.

Sold by all respectable Watch dealers.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Twenty-three infantry regiments and two batteries from Iowa are now mustered out.

An association of Northern capitalists have proposed to lease the principal Southern railroads for a term of years.

A movement has been started in St. Louis to erect a monument to Gen. Lyon, either in that city or on the Wilson's Creek battle-ground.

One of the noisiest anti-negro-suffrage copperheads in Keokuk, Iowa, is miscegenating with a female darky whom he calls his wife. So says the Gate City. Comment is unnecessary.

The Milwaukie Wisconsin tells of having seen fine specimens of peat in Waukesha county lately. It is of almost as firm texture as soft coal, and nearly as black, and burns with freedom. The bed is quite extensive.

The marble quarries recently discovered in Sauk county, Wisconsin, have been examined by experienced quarrymen, and pronounced good. Companies are being formed to work them.

The La Crosse, Wisconsin, Republican says: "Every passenger train brings a crowd of emigrants for northern Wisconsin and Minnesota, mostly Germans, Norwegians and Danes, who make an excellent class of citizens."

The people of Chicago paid for amusements last year $361,344. The Republican refers with pride to the fact that, while the Academy of Music of New York received only $90,728 in a season of six months, the opera in Chicago received $88,728 in a season of ten weeks.

At a public sale in Richmond, on Saturday last, cast scrap iron brought $26 50 ℘ ton, wrought $42 50, new bar iron $65 75 per ton. Paper brought from $3 85 to $13 85 per ream; letter envelopes $3 per thousand; rosin $4 50 per bbl; old cordage 7½c per pound, and a small portable engine $1300. One of the largest purchasers was a gentleman from Philadelphia.

The official reports relative to the white population of the city of New York show that one in every sixteen is a pauper. The official reports relative to the freedmen of Tennessee and Kentucky show that one in every seventeen is a pauper. The number of paupers in the city of New York is upwards of 50,000.

The whole Indian population within the limits of the territory of the United States is estimated at about 320,000 to 350,000; 14,000 or 15,000 of whom are located east of the Mississippi river, in New York, Wisconsin, Michigan and Mississippi. It is believed that a majority of these Indians are unfriendly to the government, and a general Indian war seems not improbable.

The Treasury Department, for the week ending July 22, issued certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $2,857,000, and within the same period redeemed $6,033,000, of such certificates. $379,000 in fractional currency was issued during the same week, and $383,000 redeemed. There yet remains about 150,000 claims for bounty land, under the several acts of Congress, before the Commissioner of Pensions.

The import entries of the country during the past week, amount to $4,267,329, as against the total entries of $5,716,165 same week last year. The export clearance of domestic produce amount to $2,947,348, against $8,010,361 same week last year. The export of specie amounts to $180,715 against $401,312 same week last year. The customs for the week are $2,536,629. The receipts of cotton coastwise and by railroad, are 20,247 bales. The number of emigrant passengers arrived during the week is 3,508.

Gen. Parsons, in a speech at the Yale College commencement exercises, stated, on authority of Secretary Stanton, that about 750,000 soldiers had already been sent home, and that 100,000 more would shortly follow; and that at the time of Lee's surrender, the Union army numbered between 800,000 and 1,000,000 men. These are astounding figures, and put the military power of the Republic in a shape that any foreign nation interested can understand and appreciate it. Up to this time, just about one-half of the Michigan troops have returned home.

Nearly eight hundred steerage passengers from Bremen were landed at Castle Garden from the steamship New York, Monday morning. They are a very superior class of emigrants. Nearly all of them are skilled mechanics and agriculturists, and bring with them enough of this world's goods to keep them out of the poor house until such times as they can find employment. At least two-thirds of them have families. The succeeding packet from Bremen had about as many more engaged of the same sort.

Searching for Light.

The following ingenious inquiry appears in the London Herald for July 18th—and remains unanswered:

> "To the Editor: Sir:—Can any of your numerous readers inform the bondholders of the Confederate Loan if any funds exist in this country to pay the next dividend, due 1st September, and also the half-yearly redemption of the bonds? Messrs. Schroder & Co., the agents, perhaps would have no objection to state what funds they have on hand, as it is no use to conceal from the present holders what their real condition is. It certainly cannot make it much worse than what it is at present. A meeting might do some good. Your obedient servant,
> "A BONDHOLDER.

United States

7-30 LOAN!

THIRD SERIES.

$230,000,000.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury notes, bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the

7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent.

GOLD BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a handsome premium and are exempt, as are all the government Bonds from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven-Thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. currency. This is

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET,

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the great

Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

SKIPPER BEN.

Sailing away!
Losing the breath of the shores in May—
Dropping down from the beautiful bay,
Over the sea slope vast and gray!
And the Skipper's eyes with a mist are blind;
For thoughts rush up on the rising wind,
Of a gentle face that he leaves behind,
And a heart that throbs through the fog bank dim,
Thinking of him.

Far into night
He watches the gleam of the lessening light
Fixed on the dangerous island height
That bars the harbor he loves from sight;
And he wishes at dawn he could tell a tale
Of how they had weathered the southwest gale,
To brighten the cheek that had grown so pale
With a sleepless night among the spectres grim—
Terrors for him.

Yo-heave-yo!
Here's the bank where the fishermen go!
Over the schooner's sides they throw
Tackle and bait to the deeps below,
And skipper Ben in the water sees,
When the ripples curl in the light land breeze,
Something that stirs like his apple trees,
And two soft eyes that beneath them swim,
Lifted to him.

Hear the wind roar,
And the rain through the slit sails tear and pour,
"Steady! we'll send by the Cape Ann shore—
Then hark to the Beverly bells once more!"
And each man worked with the will of ten;
While up in the rigging, now and then,
The lightning glared in the face of Ben,
Turned to the black horizon's rim,
Scowling on him.

Into his brain
Burned with the iron of hopeless pain,
Into thoughts that grapple and eyes that strain,
Pierces the memory cruel and vain,
Never again shall he walk at ease
Under the blossoming apple trees
That whisper and sway in the sunset breeze,
While the soft eyes float where the sea gulls skim,
Gazing with him.

How they went down
Never was known in the still old town;
Nobody guessed how the fisherman brown,
With the look of despair that was half a frown
Faced his fate in the furious night,
Faced the mad billows with hunger white,
Just within hail of the beacon light,
That shown on a woman sweet and trim
Waiting for him.

Beverly bells,
Ring to the tide as it ebbs and swells!
His was the anguish a moment tells—
The passionate sorrow death quickly knells;
But the wearing wash of a lifelong woe
Is left for the desolate heart to know,
Whose tide with the dull years come and go,
'Till hope drifts dead to its stagnant brim,
Thinking of him.

BRIEF MISCELLANY.

SOCIETY IN FRANCE.

A very curious debate recently took place in the French Senate, on the present state of prostitution in the City of Paris. From the nature of the subject discussed, the Government reporter was not admitted. M. Dupin has, however, printed the speech he delivered on that occasion for private circulation. In it he energetically condemned the luxurious lives of the upper classes of Parisian society, comparing the women of the present day to the frog in the fable, who burst while attempting to swell itself to the size of his friend the ox. "When a married woman has not de quoi to pay her bills, she shrinks from telling her husband. Her own purse being empty she dresses on credit, which cannot lase forever. Therefore she signs bills of exchange, of which the payment is almost invariably fatal to virtue. I believe the veteran orator by no means exaggerates this picture of the highest circles of Paris society, where the object of every woman is to outvie her acquaintances in the lavish extravagance of her dress and entourage. In fact, it is now recognized that society closes the doors of its salons to those whose mise en scene (an expressive term I cannot render into English) does not come up to the conventional standard of the day.

It was but very lately a gentleman of moderate income assured me that 700 francs was the lowest sum he could spend each time he took his wife into a French ball room, and even then the lady seemed singular from the plainness of her attire. Such being the state of things in the respectable portion of the community, it may easily be imagined to what the expenditure of another and yet more reckless class of women now amounts and the consequent ruin brought on families whose sons the Anonymas of the hour involve in hopeless debt and difficulty. M. Dupin suggests a somewhat utopian remedy, namely, the establishment of a society similar to that of the Matrons of the Roman Republic, where young girls and married women would be trained to habits of "modesty, decency and domestic virtue." The scheme may have been practical in the days of Lycurgus or of Cato, but I do not see by what process of reasoning M. Dupin will induce the Coralies and Boulangers of the Quartier Breda, or even the princesses and marquises we see in the Bois de Boulogne, to exchange their point d'Alencon dresses, or their guilt boudoirs, for even a temporary residence in M. Dupin's societe de temperance.

WHAT IS CITRON?

By citron we do not mean that variety of watermelon which in itself is a hard, green tasteless thing, but which by the addition of sufficient sugar and flavoring is sometimes made to serve as a sweatmeat, but that dark, fragrant, candied citron, which is found in the stores, and which the housekeepers use when they wish to accomplish anything unusual in the way of cakes. The citron of the shops is the candied rind of a fruit closely related to the orange and lemon—the Citrus medica. The tree, which is of medium size, is a native of Asia, and is now cultivated in the warm climates generally. The fruit is in general shape like the lemon, but very rough and knobby on the surface. It is quite large, and is said sometimes to attain to the weight of twenty pounds. The rind is remarkably thick and out of all proportion to the size of the pulp. The pulp is very acid, like that of the lemon, and the outer portion of the rind contains numerous little receptacles filled with an aromatic oil which communicates its flavor to the preserve, and is also extracted for use in perfumery. The rind is preserved in syrup, dried and packed in boxes for exportation. It is said that the rind is sometimes imported, pickled in salt, and candied after it reaches here. The citron is mentioned by Pliny and other ancient writers, and it is supposed to be the fruit called apple in our translations of the Scriptures.—American Agriculturist.

MORMON WOMEN.—In his last letter from Salt Lake City, the editor of the Chicago Tribune thus speaks of the feeling of the women on polygamy: While the men who have two or more wives pretend to be thoroughly convinced that they are doing right, we are assured that there is not an intelligent Mormon woman in the territory who, when her real sentiments can be known, approves of polygamy. Whatever opinions we may form of the men, all who know anything of the misery they suffer, must pity the Mormon women. To us they appear dejected and many of them heart-broken, and as time rolls on, the essential evils of the system must become the more apparent and more revolting. To degrade women from being the companion and the crown of her husband, to a life of mere serfdom, ministering to the lusts of men, and merely giving birth to other human animals, is the inevitable tendency and sure result of polygamy—an unclean, abominable thing, which must not and cannot be permanently tolerated in this civilized, Christian republic. The sooner this determination is understood by those who practice it, the better; for, like all festering sores, the longer it is endured, the more difficult of removal and the more dangerous it becomes. Our conversation with Brigham Young and his leading men, leads us to believe that they begin to understand their position, and in parting all of us expressed the hope that as they claimed polygamy was permitted, and in some cases commanded by a new revelation, their high priest might have another, peremptorily forbidding the system.

THE WAY THE NEW YORK FASHIONABLES DO IT.—The following gives a good idea of the manner of "doing it" by the New York fashionables: We have an old story of a married couple discussing the idea of visiting a fashionable watering place. The husband declared that it would be impossible; his business would not permit it. "Very well," answered the wife; "we must turn off the gas and live in the dining room this summer. If our friends should know that we remained in town they would suppose that we had not the means for a summer excursion, and that, you know, would ruin us in their estimation."

Yet none of these persons gain any comfort by this pilgrimage. They seldom have apartments as roomy and cool as those of their own home; and as for health, more is wasted than obtained by the journey. Perhaps they have the old world idea, that it is vulgar to acquire money, but genteel to spend it, and so adopt this custom to effect the end of gaining social position and respectability.

Perhaps I ought to give another anecdote. A young man became enamored of a fashionable young lady, and having told his love "in the front parlor beneath the gas fixtures," was duly accepted. The period of annual exode came on. Our hero, one day, meeting his affianced on Broadway, bowed to her, but received the "cut direct" in return. He called her by name, but she solemnly declared that she did not know him; he was mistaken in the person. The engagement was broken off; "Harry the sinner," who ought to have been dining out had not committed a greater breach of courtesy. It was the time when fashionable women did not remain in New York; and she could not tolerate a man who persisted in conduct that would consign her to that outer sphere where "Demorest" is not the tutelar genius.

OUR MISTAKES ABOUT EACH OTHER.

Not one man in ten thousand sees those with whom he associates as they really are. If the prayer of Burns were granted, and we could all see ourselves as others see us, our self estimates would in all probability be much more erroneous than they now are. The truth is that we regard each other through a variety of lenses, no one of which is correct. Passion and prejudice, love and hate, benevolence and envy, spectacle our eyes, and utterly prevent us from observing accurately. Many of whom we deem the porcelain of human clay are mere dirt, and a still greater number of those put down in our "black books," are no further off from heaven, and perchance a little nearer than the censors who condemn them.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS Matthews' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

THE GREAT FIRE AT BARNUM'S MUSEUM.

Letter from Mr. Barnum.

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

MESSRS. HERRING & Co.—Gentlemen:—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-proof Safes. Truly yours, P. T. BARNUM.

NEW PUBLICATION.

IN PRESS.

LIEUT.-GEN. GRANT

AND

HIS GENERALS.

This great ILLUSTRATED NATIONAL PICTORIAL and BIOGRAPHICAL WORK is now in press, and will be issued as soon as possible. It is, without exception, the most popular publication ever issued, and will contain the Portraits and Biographical Sketches of about one hundred and fifty of our leading

Military Heroes,
Naval Officers, and Illustrious Statesmen
And Citizens,

Who have been identified with the Union cause in crushing the Rebellion. QUARTO SIZE, HANDSOMELY BOUND and SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

Alternately through the work will be placed BUSINESS CARDS of our principal

Mercantile & Manufacturing Firms

Throughout the country. The whole, when complete, intended for GRATUITOUS CIRCULATION in all the principal Hotels, Reading Rooms, Libraries, on River, Lake and Ocean Steamers, and Public Places of Resort throughout the United States, and large cities of Europe, Havana, California, Oregon and the Pacific Coast, Canada, Valparaiso, Honolulu, &c., which will consume an edition of TEN THOUSAND COPIES.

We also intend publishing the work for sale at a low price, and we are confident, from the orders already received, we can increase its circulation to 150,000 COPIES.

The BIOGRAPHIES will be FULL and COPIOUS, yet comprehensive and complete, and from the MOST RELIABLE and UNDOUBTED AUTHORITY. The portraits will be finely executed, and engraved from pictures taken expressly for the work.

No labor or expense will be spared to make this not only one of the most ATTRACTIVE, but one of the most popular, useful and reliable works for reference or advertising ever issued.

Side by side with these our Heroes who have "fought, (and some of them) bled and died" for our common country, our leading Business Men, Merchants and Manufacturers have an opportunity to display, IN A PERMANENT AND MOST ATTRACTIVE MANNER, THROUGHOUT THE LAND, their various kinds of Business, or the results of their experience and skill in those Machines and Inventions which only need to be well known and properly applied, and they will enrich their possessors, while they help develop the great resources of our country.

We offer GRANT AND HIS GENERALS to the business public as the most valuable, popular, extensively circulated, permanent and cheapest ADVERTISING MEDIUM ever brought to their notice.

C. UNDERHILL, Esq.,

WHAT THE PRESS SAY OF IT.

[From the Philadelphia Daily Inquirer.]

GRANT AND HIS GENERALS.—A new publication is in press of a new illustrated work, called "Grant and His Generals," soon to be issued by Messrs. John Durand & Co., publishers, 34 Liberty street, New York. The specimen copy is a most magnificent specimen of book-work, and embraces in its main objects and purposes a new and novel, as well as judicious and popular advertising medium. Its pages are devoted alternately to well-executed portraits and biographies of military and naval heroes, statesmen, and leading Union men, with the business cards of commercial and manufacturing houses, the whole intended for gratuitous circulation in hotels, reading rooms, on board steamers, etc., forming, when completed, a popular, universal and widely circulated advertising medium. The agent of Messrs. Durand & Co. is now canvassing Philadelphia for subscriptions to the work. Over twenty thousand dollars have already been subscribed in New England alone.

[From the Philadelphia Daily Evening Telegraph.]

A SPLENDID IDEA.—A new and popular plan of extensive and systematic advertising has been adopted by Messrs. John Durand & Co., publishers, 34 Liberty street, New York. We have been shown this morning a most beautiful specimen bound volume of a new work they have in press, called "Grant and His Generals." The design of the work is to blend in beautiful harmony the portraits of our patriot soldiers, naval heroes, statesmen, and civilians, and their biographical sketches, with the cards and advertisements of manufacturing and commercial houses, the whole intended for gratuitous distribution in hotels, reading rooms, on board steamers, and in public places generally, throughout the United States. The plan of the work is a novel, judicious and popular one. The agent of Messrs. Durand & Co. will call on our business houses for their orders to the work, and, we predict, with success.

[From the Boston Daily Advertiser.]

LIEUTENANT GENERAL GRANT AND HIS GENERALS.—We would call the attention of our business men to a new publication now in press, the great illustrated national work, "Grant and His Generals." * * * * The theory of the publishers is, that the free and judicious distribution of ten thousand copies of a work so beautifully bound, and of such general interest, will create an unprecedented demand for the work, and enable them to sell it throughout the whole United States, thus affording the most extensive, as well as the cheapest, most permanent, and most attractive form of advertising.

[From the Boston Journal.]

The splendid volume of "Grant and His Generals" has been received in Boston with great favor, both as a work of art and as an advertising medium. Nearly all our first business houses will be represented in its columns, it being universally considered one of the best opportunities to secure a desirable publicity that has been presented. The work, from its attractive character and intrinsic value, will be in the hands of every man, woman and child in the country.

[From the Boston Post.]

* * * It deserves success. It will be a valuable and convenient work of reference, and its great popularity and extensive circulation will make it an excellent advertising medium.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

* * * * We have seen specimen copies of this work, and do not hesitate to say it is the best thing of the kind yet published.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.
The best Patent Artificial Leg in the United States and the only one in Pittsburgh, is made by REICHENBACH,
No. 58 Fourth street, near Market street.
No other person in this city has a patent for Artificial Limbs. His Patent Leg resembles the natural limb in all its movements, as well as in appearance, and cannot be detected by an experienced eye. It met the approbation of the Army Board in Washington, January 12th, 1864, at which time a patent was granted the inventor. Parties in this city and elsewhere have attempted to imitate the patent, but have only produced worthless limbs.
Crutches can be dispensed with the first time the leg is worn. On horseback, it has the power and movements as when walking.
REICHENBACH also manufactures an ARTIFICIAL HAND, which is natural in appearance and movements, and when worn but a short time by those requiring them, are indispensable. fe14-1y

SOMETHING NEW.
METAL HYDROMETERS,
That will not break or get out of order, for Testing Carbon Oil.
Having succeeded, "by dint of close study and application," in producing a Hydrometer in metal for testing Carbon Oil, I respectfully offer it to the attention of Dealers and those engaged in Refining, as an article that will not break or get out of order; its adjustment being so simple that any one may readily understand it. To those constantly using this instrument it will be found a great boon, as an article that has long been inquired after, and which needs only to be seen to be appreciated.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 2, P. M.

The variation in Gold and Government securities since yesterday are unimportant. The former rose ⅜, standing firmly at 10:45 A. M., at 144¾, and at noon at 145¼ to-day in New York. Five-twenties fell ⅛, selling at 105½, and United States certificates ⅛, selling at 99½.

—The New York oil market looks down this morning, under the influence, as is believed, of a great Bear movement. Private dispatches inform us that United States fell from $30 10 to $28 50; Excelsior from $1 76 to $1 25; Webster from $1 90 to $1 55; Pithole Creek from $9 70 to $8 50.

Dispatches, however, at a later hour giving the operations of the afternoon board which show a recovery in the most of those named. United States had rallied to $29 25; Pithole Creek to $8 75, and Webster to $1 70.

Yesterday Maple Shade at the Philadelphia Board sold at $8 37½, a gain of $1 37½ per share over the lowest it had touched. It is alleged by the friends of this company, that although the "Coquette" well is tapped, they have a five-twelfth interest in the new well that has injured theirs, and that their loss will not be so serious as the public generally anticipated. This seems to be confirmed by the rise in the stock.

—In the stock of our local oil companies there are indications of an increased degree of confidence. Our table to-day shows sales of Ritchie at 70c. This has long been offered at 50c without bringing out buyers; 90c is now asked. Cherry Run and Pithole touched 62c, and is now being held at 65c; Cherry Run and Pittsburgh is held at $1, with 90c bid. We know of a sale at 98c, after Board.

—The following comparative statement shows the average condition of the leading items of the Philadelphia Bank for the past and previous week:

	Last Week.	This Week.
Capital	$14,442,350	$14,442,350
Loans	52,454,760	53,877,790	Inc.	$1,423,030
Specie	1,154,537	1,158,070	Inc.	4,533
Legal Tenders	19,413,364	21,328,422	Inc.	1,915,058
Deposits	46,166,928	49,121,554	Inc.	2,954,626
Circulation	6,886,449	6,941,625	Inc.	55,176

The above exhibit of averages shows an increase in every item since last week. The deposits have increased $2,954,626, the legal tenders $1,915,058, and the loans $1,423,030. There was also a small increase of specie and of circulation.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday says: "Our general produce markets were turned completely upside down to-day, and it is feared that a little more pressure will cause the bottom to fall out. Those parties who during the past week participated in running prices of all commodities up, have been compelled to give way, and to-day prices were declining about as fast as they advanced. The heavy rains which prevailed throughout the greater part of last week seem to have stopped, and it is hoped that the damage to the wheat crops was not as great as anticipated. This seems to be the view taken by most buyers and they are buying very sparingly."

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Thursday, August 3, 1865.

BUSINESS was not very active. The excitement that existed some days since has passed away. There was no justification for the advance, hence the end was soon reached. Matters will soon be in a more healthy condition. The heavy advance in flour early in the week put a stop to speculations, hence the sales were confined to lots to meet the wants of the home market, each party purchasing only sufficient to supply their immediate wants, thereby indicating their faith in the advance as not being very substantial. The demand, however, was limited. Grain was unsettled. When prices reach the top they generally recede—that seems to be the matter with wheat, prices of which were very irregular. Other descriptions were unchanged. Bacon was firm. The late advances have cut off a large number of consumers whose finances will not permit them to indulge in that article at the present figures. On the landing business exhibited a fair amount of activity, with a good deal of freight. The new packet Forrest City left for Parkersburg with a good trip. The Centralia, for Cincinnati, did not get off. She will leave this day. The Minerva has the principal portion of her cargo on board. She will leave to-day for the "Queen City." The St. Louis packet for to-day is the pretty steamer Alice. There were no arrivals outside the regular packets. A number of steamers are at the landing waiting to see what will turn up. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

VINEGAR—The market was firm but not very active. Sales 6 bbls cider vinegar at 30c ℔ gallon. The supply on hand is ample.

DRIED FRUIT.—The market remains dull, with more sellers than buyers. Sales 5 bbls apples, at 6@6½c ℔ pound. Peaches—Sales 4 bbls at 18c, a decline.

HAY.—The supply was in excess of the demand, and at the scales 15 loads were disposed of at $15@18 per ton. Baled was sold from store at $20@21 00, as per quality.

PIG LEAD—The market was steady with a good demand. We note sales of 1,000 pigs of Galena, at 9½@10c.

CHEESE—The demand was fair, and sales regular. The receipts about keep pace with the demand. Sales 46 bxs Western Reserve, at 15@16c; 20 do Hamburg, 17@18c, and 15 do Goshen, 19@20c.

EGGS.—The season for high prices appears to be drawing to a close. We note sales of fresh packed to the extent of 10 bbls at 10c per dozen.

FEED—Was in demand for home purposes. Bran was held at $16@16 50 ℔ ton. Shorts—sales of 1 car at depot at $1 04 ℔ ton. Cut middlings was held at $27 ℔ ton.

BUTTER—The market was inactive; buyers were shy for some time past. Sales of 12 packages fresh at 20@22c; sales 10 kegs packed at 14c.

FLOUR—Buyers generally are holding off for lower figures, hence we have but few sales to record. Dealers are confining their purchases to lots to supply their immediate wants, having no confidence in the late advance. The principal inquiry was for the better grades of Extra Family, viz: 150 bbls "Star of the West," $10; 100 bbls good brands, $9 50; 75 bbls at $9 50@9 75 ℔ bbl.

WHISKY—Prices have advanced by a similar movement in Eastern and Western markets. Sales 25 bbls city rectified, $2 20 per gallon. Highwines are held at $2 22 per gallon, prices looking up.

CRACKERS—Prices yesterday were advanced to the following figures, viz: ℔ lb, Water, 9c; Butter, 11c; Sugar, 13c; Soda, 11c; Boston, 11c.

PEACHES—The receipts have fallen off. Prices were a shade better. Sales 25 bushels, $4 25, and 70 do $3 50 @4 50.

APPLES—The supply offered so far was not very inviting. Sales 10 bbls 6 per bbl. Prices tend downward.

GRAIN—The market yesterday presented no new feature worthy of particular notice. Wheat was steady but not very active, buyers are not generally disposed to pay the present asking price, hence we have but few sales to record: prices range from 1 75 to 1 90 for choice. Oats was in better request, with the following sales: 200 bush at 59c; 300 do at 60, and one car load at 58. Corn—The supply being limited, holders were firm, at 80@85c per bushel. Barley and Rye were not wanted: prices were nominal.

GROCERIES—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article; dealers purchase in sufficient quantities to meet their present wants at the previous days' prices.

BACON—The market was firm with a fair demand for small parcels. As prices have undergone no change we omit the rates.

COOPERAGE—Sales of 500 oil bbls at $2 60@2 80.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Thursday, Aug. 3, 1865.

The oil market was not very active. The sales were the smallest we have recorded for some time. Dealers, however, have a good supply on hand, and are not desirous of operating extensively at this time. Navigation to Oil City by steam is over for the present. The last arrival came in from Oil City—the Petrolia No. 2. She reports only twenty-six inches on "Charley"—a shoal bar between this and Oil City. The stock of oil on hand is not large. The current rates were, Crude 20@20½c ℔ gallon, according to gravity, packages exchanged or returned; 25@25½c, packages included. The principal inquiry was for certain gravities. We learn from Oil City that the market was not very active. Prices have undergone no change.

REFINED OIL—Was inactive. The sales made were only in a small way. Bonded, for immediate delivery, was held at 44@45c; held for Philadelphia delivery, at 52c.

FREE OIL—Favored brands were held at 64@65c. The demand for this article has been restricted for some time.

TAR—Prices have further declined to $7 25; with sales of 75 barrels at those figures on eastern account.

BENZOLE—Dull; buyers not disposed to take hold. The last sale we reported was at 18c for bonded, equal to 30c for free.

CRUDE OIL—Among the sales we record the following, viz: 300 bbls 42 gravity, at 20c, packages returned; 200 bbls 38 gravity, 20½c, without packages; 150 bbls 40 gravity, 20½c, same conditions; 140 bbls same gravity, 21c; 330 bbls, 20c, without packages; 168 bbls, 20½c, without barrels; 300 bbls, 20@20½c, barrels returned. This would be equal to 25@25½c, barrels included.

Oil at Cincinnati.

August 1.—Linseed has met with a fair inquiry, and the market has ruled steady at $1 05. Lard is higher, and extra cannot now be bought at less than $2, and holders are not willing to meet the demand freely at this figure. Refined Petroleum is in fair request at 68 to 70c, duty free.

New York Finance and Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.

STOCKS.

At the stock exchange this morning there was a stronger feeling on Railroad stocks, and prices were all higher. The feature of the session was the purchase of 7,000 shares of Reading by one house. The fear of a stringency in the market is evidently passing away, and there is a returning confidence in leading shares. There have been a great many weak parties at the stock exchange shaken out since Monday morning, and stocks have passed into stronger hands. In the afternoon the stock market was stronger with more disposition to buy. Erie and Northwestern were in demand, while there was quite a rush for Hudson, at a sharp advance. Government securities at the Board were rather more steady, with less pressure to sell. Seven-thirty notes are very plenty, but holders are not so eager to thrust them upon the market as yesterday. State bonds dull and lower. Miscellaneous shares generally firm.

GOLD.

The market is very quiet and operations light. Many parties think the present high rates of interest will weaken the bulls, and cause a fall in the premium. Money is in active demand and more plenty than yesterday.

PETROLEUM STOCKS

were heavy this morning, and there was a large decline throughout nearly the entire list, but they became stronger in the afternoon. Sales at the following rates: Cherry Run, 30; United States, $29 25; Buchanan Farm, $5; Webster, $1 80; Pithole, $7 90; Bradley, $3; Excelsior, $1 35; Manhattan, 25; Oceanic, $1 20; Ohio, $20; Oil Creek, $5 50; Southard, 90.

The Express says that the Oil Creek Railroad is being extended to the mouth of Pithole creek which will greatly benefit the various interests on the creek. The terminus depot of the road is to be on lands of the Terroganta Company. The well on Pithole is understood to be a failure. The roads on Pithole are in a horrid condition and teamsters ask $3 75 per barrel to Titusville, and $2 75 to the Allegheny river. The latter stream is very low and boating quite difficult. Most of the companies on Pithole are tanking their oil. Everything is very high, especially fuel and timber.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Cotton quiet and firm for middling. Flour opened dull and heavy, and closed rather quiet at $6 55@6 65 for extra round hoop Ohio; $7 90@8 40 for trade brands. Whisky firmer at $2 19@2 20—closing strong at the latter price. Wheat opened dull, but afterwards advanced 3@5c, and closed quiet at the advance; $1 40 for Chicago spring; $1 40@1 43 for Milwaukie club; $1 45 for amber Michigan; $1 75@1 90 for winter red western. Barley and barley malt nominal. Corn without decided change—closing dull. Oats dull and heavy, with 63c offered and 64c asked. Coffee quiet. Sugar steady at 11¾@13c for Cuba Muscovado, and 14@15c for Porto Rico. Molasses dull. Wool dull. Pork opened quiet but closed firm with a better demand, at $24 50 to $35 50, new mess closing at $35 50, cash. New mess, August sellers' option, at $34@34 50. Beef quiet, at $8 50@12 50 for Plain Mess; $10@10 45 for extra Mess Beef. Hams scarce and firm. Cut Meats firm at 15@17 for Shoulders, and 20@23½ for Hams. Bacon dull. Lard lower at 19½@24½. Butter quiet at 27@28 for Ohio and 28@35 for State. Cheese dull at 10@15½.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Money scarcely so firm. Call loans are quoted at 6@7 per cent. Sterling Exchange dull at 108⅞@108¼. Gold a shade firmer, opening at 144⅞ and closing at 145¼. Government stocks rather more steady and dull; 5-20 coupons, 105⅝; new issue, 104½; 7-30s, 2d series, 98⅞; do 3d series, 99; U. S. 6s, One Year Certificates, new issue, 97½; Cumberland preferred, 87½; Reading, 104¾; Pittsburgh, 69½; Michigan Southern, 65½; Illinois Central, 127½; Northwestern preferred, 61; Fort Wayne, 97; Chicago & Alton, 103; Prairie du Chein, 38¼.

EVENING BOARD.

At Gallagher's Exchange: Gold, 144½; old 5-20's, 105¾; New York Central, 91½; Erie, 88¼; Hudson, 113; Pittsburgh, 69; Rock Island, 108; Northwestern preferred, 61. Market steady and dull. Gold active and firm.

New York Gold Market.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Gold unusually dull. The present high rates of interest make it doubtful if the bulls can hold off much longer under their large accumulations of produce, and the expectation that the premium will fall. The quotations opened at 145, went up to 145½, and fell again to 145¼.

New York Petroleum Market.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Petroleum quiet; crude for September, sellers' option, 33c; refined in bond is quoted at 51@53½c, and refined free at 70½@72¾c.

Cincinnati Market.

CINCINNATI, August 2.—Flour is more steady, but prices are not yet settled; superfine could have been bought at $7 25. Wheat was offered in the forenoon at $1 65, but sold at $1 75 for prime Red after the news from New York—Receipts large. Corn dull at 55@56c. Oats dull at 57c. Rye has advanced to $1, but the demand is light. Whisky fair at $2 20. Mess Pork quiet; the market was not effected by the advance in New York; 800 bbls sold at $30 50 for country and $31 for city, with more sellers than buyers at the close. Nothing was done in bulk meats; prices unchanged. Lard is unchanged and quiet. Groceries firm, but prices dull. Gold 144⅝.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Flour quiet. Wheat active at $1 20½ for No. 1 and $1 06@1 07 for No. 2. Corn quiet and ¾@1c lower; at 67@68c for No. 1, and 66@66½ for No. 2. Oats dull and 2c lower; at 40@41c. Highwines quiet at $2 21½. Provisions firm; mess pork $32; prime mess $26@29 25. Freights steady. Receipts—2,800 bbls Flour, 2,600 bush Wheat, 153,000 bush Corn, 22,000 bush Oats. Shipments—1800 bbls Flour, 15,000 bush Wheat, 103,000 bush Corn.

Oswego Market.

OSWEGO, Aug. 2.—Flour dull, at $7@7 50 for No. 1 spring; $8 for red winter; $9 for white; $9 25@10 for double extra. Wheat inactive; No. 1 spring held at $1 37½; $1 35 was offered without sales. Corn scarce; 81c was offered for No. 1 to arrive. Freights quiet—Flour, 41@42c; wheat, 10c; corn, 8¾, to New York. Lake imports—Flour 15,000 bbls. Canal exports, 1,440 bbls flour; 7,000 bush corn. Shipped by railroad—608 bbls flour.

Milwaukie Market.

MILWAUKIE, Aug. 2.—Flour very dull; choice spring extra, $8. Sales 70,000 bush wheat at $1 17½@1 18 for No. 1 spring. Corn, oats and rye dull and nominal. Receipts—1,200 bbls flour, 47,000 bush wheat. Shipments—2,200 bbls flour, 49,000 bush wheat. Freights—Firm; 7½c on wheat to Buffalo and 13c to Oswego.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, August 2.—Flour dull. Wheat—No. 1 Milwaukie spring, $1 27@1 27; Sheboygan spring, $1 25@1 26, closing firmer. Corn—Mixed No. 1, 79c, and No. 2 at 77c. Oats dull and nominal at 54c. Pork, $33. Whisky $2 17. Freights—Wheat 14½c, Corn 12½c, oats 8c. Receipts—Wheat 270,000 bushels, Corn 487,000 bush, Oats 8,000 bush.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, Aug. 2.—Flour quiet. Wheat 2c better; sales of Michigan at $1 73; Amber, $1 65. Corn 1½c better; sales at 73½c for No. 1. Oats steady at 50c. Lake freights dull and nominal.

Prices of Mining Stocks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The prices of mining stocks in Boston to-day were: Copper Falls, 19¼; Franklin, 33½; Hancock, 8½; Hudson, 37; Isle Royal, 7½; Quincy, 54½.

Cincinnati Iron Market.

August 1—Iron—The demand for Pig Iron continues light, and the market is dull, though prices have not undergone any change, and we continue to quote Hot Blast at $48 per ton for No. 2, and $48 per ton for No. 1, and $43@45 for No. 2. Cold Blast is held nominally at $55@58. Bar Iron is lower, closing at 4½c for common, and 5½@6½c, for charcoal. Horseshoes are selling at 6½@7c, for Shoenberger's Extra.

Nails—The demand is fair, and stocks being light, the market rules firm at the following quotations:

10 to 6d	$5 @5 25
8 to 9d	5 25@5 50
6 to 7d	5 50@5 75
4 to 5	5 75@6 00

3d, fine blued	7 25@7 50
2d, "	8 25@8 50
Cut Spikes	5 25@5 50

Cincinnati Provision Market.

August 1.—There was not much done in Provisions, and no material change in the market is perceptible. Mess Pork is held firmly at $32 for city, and $31 to 31 50 for country.

Bulk Shoulders are quoted at 15¾ to 16c, loose; Sides at 16½c, loose.

Bacon Shoulders are held at 17½c; Sides at 17¾ to 18, packed; clear ribbed at 18½ to 18¾, and clear at 19½c.

Lard is not offered at less than 24c, though there is no demand to sustain that figure. Country can be had at 23c.

Hams are dull. The high figures cut off the demand, and dealers have to accept 1 to 2c lower figures to find customers.

Cincinnati Lumber Market.

August 1.—Some rafts were sold at the river at $25 50 to $28 per 2,000 feet, for Yellow Pine, as the rafts ran. There is a good demand from the yards, at the following quotations:

Clear pine lumber, per 1,000 feet	$65 00

Coal at Cincinnati.

August 1.—About 600,000 bushels Youghiogheny Coal left Pittsburgh for this point on the recent rise, and arrived here during the week. It has been nearly all sold at 18c afloat. The retail rates remain at 24c for Youghiogheny and 21@22c for Ohio River, delivered to consumers.

Whisky at Cincinnati.

August 1.—The market for Whisky opened rather quiet but after the advices from the East were made public, there was an active demand, and all to be had at $2 17 was taken, and at the close higher prices were asked. The sales comprise about 600 bbls.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP.

The partnership heretofore existing between GEORGE SMITH and J. F. STEVENSON, is this day dissolved by mutual consent, J. F. STEVENSON retiring from the firm. The business will be continued by GEORGE SMITH, who is authorized to settle the business of GEORGE SMITH & CO., and also of C. LUDWICK & CO., dissolved May 10th, 1865.

Forest City	Gardon	Parkersburg.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were scant six feet water in the channel and falling. The weather continues warm. A fair amount of business was transacted for the season.

THE new steamer Forest City left yesterday on her first trip. She was full of people.

THE fine packet Centralia was detained yesterday. She will get off to-day.

THE splendid packet Centralia, Captain Wm. Reno, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville this day. To persons going that way a fine opportunity is presented.

CAPT. GORDON's new and pretty steamer is now at the landing, receiving the finishing touch. She is named Forrest City, and seems admirably adapted for the Pittsburgh trade.

THE favorably known steamer Minerva, Capt. G. W. Johnston, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat has good accommodations, careful and experienced officers. Capt. J. R. Richardson will do the honors in the office.

HO FOR ST. LOUIS.—The favorite passenger steamer "Alice," Capt. S. B. French, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis on this day. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations, and offers the best of accommodations for persons going that way. In the clerk's office we notice our young friend Mr. Thomas French. Any business entrusted to him will go all right.

Cincinnati.

August 2d.—We condense the following from the Commercial: The river has receded three inches during the past twenty-four hours, with eighteen feet hence to Louisville, and seven feet in the canal. The Tennessee is still falling, by last accounts. Latest advices report twenty-six inches on Harpeth Shoals, in the Cumberland, and falling. There is sixteen feet in the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo.

The J. R. Gilmore and Amelia Poe came in from Pittsburgh. The former departed for St. Louis, and the latter for Louisville.

The Yorktown arrived from St. Louis.

Onward and Ariadillo, from St. Louis, and Darling and Naugatuck, from Memphis, are among the first boats due from there.

The Citizen has gone to Louisville, where she tows two barges of mules to St. Louis.

We hear that the A. & M. S. S. Co. are negotiating for the purchase of the fine steamers Lady Gay and Ruth.

Captain Elijah Wood has chartered the Iron City for the Nashville and St. Louis trade, in place of the W. M. Butler. She leaves for Nashville this evening.

Capt. James W. Batchelor, late of the Guidon, has been appointed Surveyor of the Columbian Insurance Company, of New York. Capt. B. has an extensive acquaintance in river circles, and is admirably qualified for the position.

We congratulate the A. & M. Steamship Company on receiving the services of Capt. St. Clair Thomasson, in the command of the big Mississippi. Capt. Thomasson is a great favorite along the Lower Mississippi, and a first class gentleman in the fullest sense of the term.

Louisville.

August 1.—The Press says: The river has been falling pretty fast since Saturday morning, with 7 feet 2 inches water in the canal last evening by the mark. The decline at the head of the falls has been thirteen inches, and a little over three feet at Portland. The weather was rather cool yesterday and Saturday, the thermometer not above 80 in the shade.

On the falls last evening there were fully five feet water in the pass down the Indian chute.

The coal fleet has arrived, but owing to the sudden reaction of the tide they were unable to descend the falls, but the barges of two or three towboats were taken through the canal bound for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Cumberland at Nashville on Saturday was receding, with thirty inches water on the shoals, and no steamboat departures.

COLLISION.—On the 21st the Prairie Rose and Rob Roy came into collision on the Lower Mississippi, at Manchac Point, by which the Prairie Rose was considerably damaged, and had to be run to shore to prevent sinking. A lot of cotton was knocked overboard, and one or two passengers, all of which were saved. The injured boat was on her way to St. Louis.

MODERN MIRACLE.—FROM OLD and young, from rich and poor, from high-born and lowly, comes the universal voice of praise for HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER. It is a perfect and miraculous article; cures baldness, makes Hair grow. A better dressing than any Oil or Pomatum. Softens harsh, dry and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. Use it a few times, and, presto, change, the whitest and worst looking Hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dye the Hair, but strikes at the root, and fills it with new life and coloring matter. It will not take a long, disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the natural color returning every day, and before you know it, the old, gray, discolored appearance of the Hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks. Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect. You will find it cheap to buy, pleasant to try, and sure to do you good. There are many imitations. Be sure you procure the genuine, manufactured only by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

VALUABLE IRON PROPERTY FOR SALE.

TENNESSEE
ROLLING WORKS.

We will offer for sale on the 2d DAY OF OCTOBER, 1865, on the premises, the valuable Iron Property known as the

with 6440 acres of Land, about 600 acres good Farming Land cleared and under fence, situated on the Cumberland River, fifty miles above the mouth, in Lyon county, Kentucky, embracing a large and complete Rolling Mill, a Forge with twenty Nobbling Fires, a Machine Shop containing Lathes, Boring and Planing Machines, with a Boiler and Engine to run separate from Mill, with a Grist Mill attached, a large Warehouse, Dry Goods Store, Brick Office, and a large number of Dwellings for workmen. Also about Forty Thousand Bushels of Stone Coal, and Sixty Thousand Bushels of Charcoal.

The above Iron Works have been in successful operation for a number of years, and the reputation of the Iron fully established, with a capacity for making Five or Six Thousand Tons of superior Charcoal Iron yearly—unsurpassed by any manufactory in the United States. The facilities for obtaining Pig Iron are superior to any establishment in the West, there being three Charcoal Furnaces within one to three miles of the Mill, capable of producing Seven or Eight Thousand Tons of Pig Iron yearly.

The facilities for obtaining cheap supplies of Corn, Pork and other articles, are unsurpassed.

Shipments of Iron can be made to the mouth of Cumberland River all seasons of the year.

TERMS OF SALE.

The Rolling Mill, Forge and Lands thereto attached, Tools, embracing Mill, Forge and Blacksmith Tools, and Weighing Scales, are to be sold on a credit of one, two and three and four years from date, with approved security, and lien retained until the purchase money is paid.

It is understood that the purchaser of the mill, lands and fixtures is to take the wrought iron and cast iron scraps, stone coal, charcoal, farming tools, carpenter tools, corn, hay, mules, cattle, hogs, iron safe and fixtures in office, wagons, carts, medicines, etc., and pay cash at a fair valuation, two disinterested men to fix said valuation; in case they do not agree, to call in a third man.

The object of the sale is to close up said business agreeably to the articles of co-partnership.

Capitalists wishing to invest in a profitable iron property will do well to examine the same, when competent men will be ready at all times to show the property, and give particulars until day of sale.

The subscriber, at Florence, Washington county, Pa., will sell the FARM near Burgettstown, containing about 160 acres, say 100 acres cleared, with a small TENANT HOUSE and FRAME STABLE; is in a good state of cultivation. The balance is uncleared and heavily timbered. About three-fourths of the Farm is underlaid with an excellent strata of COAL, of from 5 to 6 feet in thickness, which has been opened in several places and used on the Farm. It has on it any amount of Limestone, and is well watered with never-failing Springs. It lies near the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, say within 30 or 40 rods of it, rather above the bed of the road, say about 27 miles from Pittsburgh, and about 13 from Steubenville. For particulars we would refer to WM. McCREERY, Esq., Pittsburgh, to the tenant on the Farm, or the subscriber at Florence. S. LIVINGSTON.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN LOTS FOR SALE.—A portion of the estates of JOHN HERRON, Esq., deceased, adjoining Fort Herron, has been laid out in lots of various sizes, from one-fourth to one and a half acres each, with wide streets (49 feet) and is now ready for sale. This property is in one of the most eligible locations around the city. The air being pure, free from the smoke and soot arising from the vast consumption of coal in the city, renders the location naturally healthy, and having extended views of the river and surrounding country, makes the property more desirable. Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. Lots will be sold singly or in numbers. The plan of lots and prices can be seen at the office of W. C. AUGHINBAUGH, ju5-tf Attorney, NO. 87 Diamond st., Pittsburgh.

FOR SALE

Two three-story and one two-story Brick Dwellings Nos. 1 and 3 Pennsylvania Avenue, within one square of the Court House; each twenty four feet front and substantially built in the best style, with all the modern improvements and conveniences, as balconies, gas, hot and cold water, &c., &c. Enquire of S. B. W. GILL, No. 89 Fifth street, or D. C. KING, ja4-tf No. 70 Second street.

VALUABLE COAL LAND FOR SALE.—90 acres of COAL LAND, situate in Union Township, 3 miles from Pittsburgh, and within one-fourth of a mile of the Little Sawmill Run Railroad, is of very best quality of Coal, with 40 acres of good land, under cultivation, and being suitable for country residences; this property being a part of the estate of the late James Carter, Esq., deceased. For terms, inquire of PETER BATES, of Manchester, or of JAMES CARTER, on the premises, Executors of James Carter. jy20-1m

An opportunity to purchase a superior class of saddle and draft animals, at far less than their true value, is now offered to the public.

Though the majority of them are sound and serviceable, they are no longer required in the army, and must be sold.

Many of the mules were bought in the beginning of the war, when young, accompanied the armies in all their marches and camps, and are thoroughly broken, hardened by exercise, gentle and familiar from being so long surrounded by the soldier.

Animals will be sold singly.
Sales to commence at 10 A. M.
Terms—Cash, in United States currency.
